CROW WING CO. FAIR WONDERFUL PROGRAM

OFFER WEALTH OF MUSIC TO MANY PATRONS

MINNEAPOLIS SYMPHONY SECTION, 2 LOCAL BANDS, RANGE BAND
BARN AND AGRICULTURAL HALL BRIMFULL OF FARM PRODUCTS

Crow Wing County Fair which opens at Pequot on August 30, continuing till September 1, will have the greatest array of musicians ever booked at a county fair, including at least nine members of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, the Brainerd Ladies' band, the Crosby-Ironton Range band, and the Brainerd City band, the greatest feature of the musical entertainment, of course, being the soloists of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra.

Besides the musical entertainment there will also be parachute drops, trained bird and animal performances, clown and acrobatic performances, special musical numbers, speeches, Indian village, Indian performers and Professor Rex, physical culturist who will perform in hair whips, aerial gymnastics and human fly stunts.

Crow Wing County Fair officials hope to have this year the largest and finest program ever put on.

Bookings have also been made for a carousel, three abreast merry-go-round, said to be the finest in the state, and a new chair-o-plane, guaranteed to furnish thrills, and a series of shows of a clean, entertaining type.

The exhibit will also be an outstanding one, judging from the early requests for premium lists and from entries which have been coming in for the past week.

It is expected that the barn and agricultural hall will be filled. A dozen or more calf club members are scheduled to display their animals.

Symphony Orchestra

One of the features of the programs played by the Symphony Orchestra players will be the French horn quartettes. Members of this section of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra delighted audiences in the larger cities of the nation last winter and were enthusiastically received. This group of artists is a little League of Nations in itself. Rickard Lindenhahn is a native of Germany, Sami Isuf is from Albania, Harvey Mathieu is from France and the United States is represented by Wm. Muelby, a native of Minnesota. Other orchestra members who are certain to play at the fair are Herman Boesenroth, librarian of the Symphony Orchestra, with the trumpet; Frank Wagner, trombone; Alfred Damm, violinist in the Symphony Orchestra, director of the St. Paul Municipal Band, with the baritone; Edward Schugens, bass, and William Fastkenheuer, with a seldom-heard instrument, the xylophone. A treat of this sort is rare indeed, and is only possible through the generosity of the musicians, who are not only donating their services to the fair, but spending much time in preparing music, making arrangements, and the like, and in some instances, even making special trips up from the cities to play. A sample program is to be found in tomorrow's issue of The Brainerd Daily Dispatch.

Parachute Drop Feature

Balloon ascensions were not infrequent at fairs in older settled sections in the past, but Daredevil Reynolds has a new stunt in this line. He makes a triple parachute drop. Leaving his balloon at a height of not less than 2,500 feet, he drops. As his parachute opens, he drops from it, to be caught by the second parachute, then drops with another to the ground.

Physical culturists will be interested in seeing Professor Rex whirl two men in the air holding to his hair, release himself from shackles after being pulled to the top of a pole, swallow a watch and similar stunts.

Trained Bird Circus

A dozen or more birds trained to a point where they seem to have almost human intelligence, is an entertainment feature sure to interest. Madam Viola has shown her birds through many European countries, and this entertainment is said to be the outstanding one of its class.

Special musical numbers, readings, speeches and the like, races, ball games, etc., will make it certain there is not an idle moment.

100 YEARS OLD, EATS BIG SLICE OF BIRTHDAY CAKE

New Sweden, Minn., Aug. 25.—(UP)—One hundred years old, K. Decko ate a big slice from his birthday cake yesterday with his own teeth.

Decko, whose outlook on life is complacent and who regards the world as not worse and no better than it ever was, had a birthday party attended by his six children, 18 grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.

The centenarian was born in Norway and had been married five years in 1856 when he came to America in a small sailing vessel.

RAID

1,601 SOCIALLY ELECT FEAR EX-POSURE OF LIST OF PATRONS

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 25.—(UP)—A list of names of patrons of a bootlegging club's "little black book" was found by prohibition agents in Minneapolis.

The raid was carried out successfully when Lane Maloney, St. Paul group chief, obtained entrance to the club by a ruse and held two big steel doors open while his fellow agents entered.

Instead the agents found a card index and loose leaf ledger bearing "the names of some of the Twin Cities' best known residents," Major B. B. Wilcox said.

Brigadier General W. F. Rhinow, northwest prohibition director, has not decided whether to make the list public. He may call many of the indicated patrons to testify to the alleged liquor law violations by the club.

Ten gallons of choice liquors, alcohol and "spiked" beer were confiscated and five men, all alleged employees of the club, were arrested.

HELD FOR SLAYING HIS BROTHER-IN-LAW

Springfield, Mo., Aug. 25.—(UP)—W. R. Leffler was held by police here today following the slaying last night of the Rev. Edward Gillum, 40, Leffler's brother-in-law.

Gillum was killed during a quarrel with Leffler who charged the preacher with attempting to break up his home.

Leffler surrendered to police and told them he struck his brother-in-law with an Indian club after Gillum had reached for his hip pocket.

GIRL'S SKULL FRACTURED BY WAGON WHEEL

Kandiyohi, Minn., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Marion Goehring, aged three years daughter of Bert Goehring of near here, died at Union hospital Tuesday after her skull had been fractured by a wagon wheel.

entertainment programs open at 7 o'clock sharp Monday evening, with Prof. Reynolds' balloon ascension and parachute drop. The evening program will necessarily have to begin promptly to permit the crowding in of the entire evening's performance within reasonable time.

The Brainerd Ladies' band has donated a concert for Monday evening, and the Symphony Orchestra players have promised an hour's entertainment. Other entertainers will fall in where there is an opportunity.

Monday morning will be given over to judging of exhibits. Tuesday afternoon and evening entertainments are to be in the nature of surprise programs. Wednesday afternoon a ball game is scheduled, with races, shows by the entertainers, balloon ascension, and a speech by Dr. Edward Bywater, independent candidate for president of the United States in 1928. The fair will close Wednesday night with another Symphony Orchestra concert of solos, duets, quartettes, sextettes, etc.

August Iron Ore Shipments From Minnesota to Set a High Record This Year, It Is Stated

FRANK A. WILDES MAKES ESTIMATES FOR THE SEASON

TONNAGE FOR AUGUST WILL TOTAL 11,000,000 TONS

WILL AID SWELLING YEAR'S TONNAGE TO RECORD PROPORTIONS

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 25.—(UP)—August iron ore shipments from Minnesota will set a high record this year, Frank A. Wildes, superintendent of state mines predicted today on the basis of estimates forwarded to the office of Ray P. Chase, state auditor, from both state- and privately-owned mines.

The tonnage will total 11,000,000, he said, and will aid in swelling the year's tonnage to what may be record proportions.

State-owned mines this year will produce an estimated 9,000,000 tons of iron ore. The previous high record was 7,594,622 tons, in 1923. Productions of these mines up to Aug. 15 or for slightly more than half of the mining season, approximated 5,700,000 tons.

The state-owned Missabe Mountain mine at Virginia will produce this year approximately 6,000,000 tons of ore, or about 1,000,000 tons a month. The state owns nearly 30 mines, of which the Missabe Mountain mine is the largest.

The Missabe mine alone this year is producing a tonnage equivalent to the production of all mines in the state in 1922.

GERMAN MARK BOBS UP FROM OLD POINT OF YEAR

New York, Aug. 25.—(UP)—German marks today broke away from the point at which they had been pegged for more than a year, the demand selling at 23.81 cents, against the pegged rate of 23.80 cents, where they had held since March 19, 1925.

The Reichsbank has removed the arbitrary rate which it has kept on the mark and will now permit the German currency to fluctuate with the market. Dealers, however, do not expect wide changes in the present quotations.

JURY IN ALLEGED INDIAN MURDER CASE FAILS TO AGREE

Guthrie, Okla., Aug. 25.—(UP)—The jury in the trial of William K. Hale and John Ramsey, charged with the murder of Henry Roan Horse, wealthy Osage Indian, was dismissed by Federal Judge John Cotter today after it failed to reach a verdict.

BIG BRUSH FIRE RAGING IN NORTH MANITOBA, CANADA

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 25.—(UP)—A big brush fire is burning along the Churchill river in northern Manitoba. Perch Rapids settlement on Pickrell narrows has been burned out completely and it is said that the fire now covers a very large area.

This region is exceedingly dry, not having had the rains which fell in the Pas district a couple of weeks ago. Within the last few days there has been some rain which has materially helped the situation.

Every effort is being made by those in the district to control the fire but the only hope of having it completely extinguished before the whole area is burned over is in a heavy downpour of rain.

LOWLY HAND CAR FACTOR DERAILING HEAVY WORK TRAIN

Phoenix, Ariz., Aug. 25.—(UP)—A hand car left on the main line of the Santa Fe near Gallup, N. M., caused derailment early today of a work train of 22 cars, according to advices here.

Two persons were killed and eight others injured, it was reported.

The dead, according to the advices here, are J. B. Tucker, conductor, of Gallup, and Mrs. Joe Hansen, wife of the work train fireman.

3 MEN FALL IN FIGHT OVER MOUNTAIN GIRL

DETAILS LACKING IN GUN PLAY NEAR PINEVILLE, KENTUCKY

REPORTS THAT YOUNG MEN AGED 18, 19 AND 20 HAD KILLED EACH OTHER

Pineville, Ky., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Three men were reported killed today in a gun fight over a girl in the mountains near here.

County officers left for the scene of the fight immediately upon receiving reports that George Whitehead, 20, Frank Blanton, 19, and Chester Hoskins, 18, had killed each other. They were not expected to return here for several hours and in the meantime details were lacking.

Th report received here said that the fight followed an attempt of Blanton to interfere with the engagement of Miss Maggie Whitehead to Hoskins.

During the dispute Whitehead took his revolver and shot Blanton, a stray bullet killing Hoskins, the report said. A bystander intervened and in the scuffle with Whitehead over the revolver, it was accidentally discharged and Whitehead killed.

IDENTITY OF MAN BOMBING BANK REMAINS UNKNOWN

KILLED 2 PEOPLE AND INJURED TWO SCORE AT PITTSBURGH

BLAST COMPLETELY SEVERED HEAD OF BANDIT BOMB THROWER

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Identity of the man who yesterday bombed the Farmers' Deposit bank killing two people and injuring two score others, after demands for $2,000 had been denied, today remained unknown.

The body of an unidentified man, his head completely severed, was found in the debris after the explosion and this is believed the body of the maniacal holdup man.

The other victim of the bombing was George C. Ortmann, bank policeman, who attempted to seize the bag in which the man carried the bomb.

The explosion came just as the mid-afternoon throngs filled the downtown streets. Thousands of pedestrians were within a close radius of the building when the explosion came. Buildings in the district were rocked and windows in many buildings were shattered.

Officials of the wrecked bank today estimated the damage at $150,000.

REMINDER THAT WINTER IS AHEAD

Winslow, Ark., Aug. 25.—(UP)—First reminder that winter is ahead appeared here in a light snow which fell for an hour and a half last night. Temperatures tumbled from 72 to 50 degrees. The snow melted as it fell.

COUPLE HAPPY. REUNITED AFTER 63 LONG YEARS

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS MANN, 83 AND 80, CREDIT PENSION BUREAU

LATTER BROUGHT ABOUT RESUMPTION OF THEIR MARITAL RELATION

Sparta, Wis., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Reunited here today after a separation of 63 years, during which time each believed the other dead, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mann, 83 and 80 years old, credit the United States Pension Bureau for bringing about the resumption of their marital relation.

Th couple were married at Marlinton, Ind., in 1863, and shortly thereafter the youthful husband enlisted in the army. Later he was discharged, moving to near Ironton, Wis., with his bride. He re-enlisted with a Wisconsin regiment and served until the close of the war in 1865.

Upon his return home he found that a baby daughter had been born and died during his absence, and that his wife, because of financial troubles had returned to her parents in Indiana. His efforts to locate her proving unsuccessful, Mann drifted about the country and finally located in Onalaska, Wis., where he married a widow and raised a family of five children.

Mrs. Mann in the meantime believing that he had perished in the civil war, married William Burns of Indianapolis, Ind., residing with him until his death in 1890. They had four children. Later she was married to James Tracy of Fort Wayne, and moved to Grand Rapids, Mich., where he died a short time ago.

Applying for a pension as the widow of Thomas Mann, a union soldier, she was informed recently by the pension bureau that such a soldier was still living in Sparta. Correspondence between the widow at Grand Rapids and Mann here followed. Attorneys told them that despite the other marriages they are still man and wife and they are renewing an interrupted honeymoon period here today.

DROWNED WHEN HE STEPPED OFF LEDGE TO DEPTHS

Minneapolis, Aug. 25.—(UP)—The body of Arthur Skoglund, 17, of Minneapolis, was recovered yesterday from Thomas Bay, in Lake Minnetonka, three hours after he had stepped off a ledge into deep water while wading.

PAY TRIBUTE TO ARTHUR MELLBYE

Lake Lillian, Minn., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Business houses here closed their doors today during the funeral of Arthur Mellbye, who died from injuries suffered when he fell 35 feet down a silo. He was 31 years old. A brother, Eugene Mellbye, lives at Fergus Falls.

Minneapolis, Aug. 25.—(UP)—Balked by relatives in his attempt to shoot himself, Edgar S. Anderson, 37, leaped into the Mississippi river and was drowned yesterday.

MEDIATION FAILS, RAIL MEN TO TAKE UP ARBITRATION

New York, Aug. 25.—(UP)—Mediation of the wage question between the Brotherhoods of Railway Trainmen and Conductors and the eastern carriers has failed and arbitration proceedings will begin in this city at a date still to be decided.

Following lengthy sessions of the United States Board of Mediation yesterday, last night and this morning, Col. Samuel D. Winslow issued a statement saying arbitration was necessary.

HANGED FOR MURDER OF HIS SWEETHEART

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Dan Proclew was hanged at the provincial jail here this morning for the murder of his sweetheart, Annie Cardno, following a drunken row in which the woman died as the result of many bruises and kicks and then having boiling water thrown over her in an attempt to revive her.

Hangman Ellis, Dominion executioner, bungled his job this morning and Proclew's head was severed from his body in the drop from the scaffold.

THRONGS TO VIEW BODY OF VALENTINO

POLICE PREPARE TO HANDLE A CROWD EXCEEDING 30,000

SURGING THRONGS CLAMOR TO PAY RESPECTS TO DEAD SCREEN IDOL

New York, Aug. 25.—(UP)—Scores of police today circled the quiet Campbell funeral parlors on upper Broadway to handle the throngs who are expected to congregate to view the body of Rudolph Valentino, lying in state within the parlors.

Police prepared to handle a crowd exceeding 30,000—the estimate placed on the surging throng which yesterday clamored to pay last respects to the dead screen idol.

In yesterday's rush it was estimated that 100 persons received minor injuries. Many of those hurt received cuts when great plate glasses in store fronts were broken by the thousands who filled the walks near the funeral parlors.

Officially the doors of the building where Valentino lies were closed at midnight against a crowd estimated at 20,000 which still waited outside. But twenty policemen who kept all night watch, after 180 foot and mounted men needed earlier, had departed, were lenient with dozens who claimed that night work prevented their viewing the body by day.

Until dawn groups of night workers passed the ornate coffin, gazing on the pallid features of the dead star.

Dawn found a new horde gathered before the doors. Along the street shop keepers had boarded up their windows, to prevent their being smashed by the surging crowds.

Throughout the evening the mob fought and scrambled about the portals, breaking the waiting queues lined up four abreast for more than two blocks. Inside police hurried the people past the coffin, a record of 150 persons a minute being set. Rain beat down upon the sodden groups. Police said it was the worst disorder ever seen in New York.

During the evening some of the waiting people, who had failed to gain admission during the day, brought cakes of soap which they scattered on the sidewalks, making the pavement so slippery that when mounted police charged their horses stumbled.

Several of the horses fell on the soaped sidewalks.

Youth was the dominant note in the crowds. The majority were women and girls, although thousands of men were in line. Many of the women brought their babies.

Scant respect for the dead was exhibited by the curious crowd. Girls nudged each other, giggled and commented. Here and there, alone, some silent girl appeared to show real sorrow.

At midnight two Italian youths, one in plain clothes, one dressed in the black shirt and cap of the Italian Fascisti, arrived at the rooms and asked permission to stand watch beside the dead man.

They spoke simply, saying that they wished to stand guard in honor of Italy's dead.

For an hour they maintained their watch but left at 1 A. M.

Funeral plans, as announced by George Ullman, manager of the actor, call for keeping the body on view until midnight every day until Saturday.

The funeral services, he said, would be held at 11 A. M. Monday at St. Malachy's church. Burial will be at Hollywood, Ullman plans, unless members of the star's family desire that he be buried in Italy.

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 25.—Poia Negri, film star, announced she plans to leave today for New York for the funeral of Rudolph Valentino, to whom she has been reported engaged.

Miss Negri spent yesterday evening purchasing an elaborate ensemble of black silk. The modiste from whom it was purchased, said it had cost about $3,000.

REVOLUTION ON IN SOUTH AMERICAN NATION

STATE DEPARTMENT ASKS THE NAVY TO SEND SHIPS TO NICARAGUA

CRUISERS OF SPECIAL SERVICE FLEET AT BALBOA TO BE DISPATCHED

Washington, Aug. 25.—(UP)—The United States navy will dispatch two cruisers to Nicaragua to protect American lives and property which may be endangered by the revolution in that country, it was learned at the state department today.

The state department requested the navy to send ships as "a precautionary measure" following receipt of reports on conditions in Nicaragua from consular agents at Bluefield and Corinto.

Rear Admiral Julian L. Latimer, in charge of a special service squadron with headquarters at Balboa, C. Z., has been instructed to dispatch the ships to Nicaragua. This squadron, which is maintained at and around the Panama Canal most of the time, includes the cruisers Rochester, flagship, and Cleveland and Denver and the gunboats, Galveston and Tulsa.

Dispatch of American warships was not unexpected following the first reports of the Nicaraguan revolution late last week.

The marines on the ships and the sailors probably will not go inland but will remain on the coast, ready to furnish refuge to Americans or to send an expedition to protect threatened American property. The present Chamorro government of Nicaragua which obtained control of the country by armed force several months ago, is not recognized by the United States.

BROOKHART VOICES PRAISE FOR YOUNG LA FOLLETTE, REED

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Praise for Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., and Sen. "Jim" Reed of Missouri was voiced here today by former Sen. Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa. Brookhart is to speak at a farmers' meeting at Waino, Kansas, this afternoon.

"I admire Jim Reed for his courage," Brookhart said, "although I cannot agree with him in many of his battles."

Sen. LaFollette "has a better head than his father," Brookhart believes. Iowa republicans are again united firmly, according to Brookhart.

LIGHTED MATCH CAUSED TROUBLE

Sedan, Minn., Aug. 25.—(UP)—A lighted match which he held in his hand exploded the fumes of gasoline in a filling station several feet away and seriously burned Nels Tackland, of Medberry, N. D., who was here on a business trip. His clothing caught fire, but the flames were extinguished by attendants of the station. He was taken to Broton for treatment.

LYNX SHOT IN OTTERTAIL COUNTY

Fergus Falls, Minn., Aug. 25.—(UP)—A lynx was shot by Maylon Njornstad, of Underwood, on his farm after a dog had chased the animal from a barn and up a tree. The lynx is rarely seen in Ottertail county, but one recently was killed near Elbow Lake.

County officers left for the scene of the fight immediately upon receiving reports that George Whitehead, 20, Frank Blanton, 19, and Chester Hoskins, 18, had killed each other. They were not expected to return here for several hours and in the meantime details were lacking.

The report received here said that the fight followed an attempt of Blanton to interfere with the engagement of Miss Maggie Whitehead to Hoskins.

During the dispute Whitehead took his revolver and shot Blanton, a stray bullet killing Hoskins, the report said. A bystander intervened and in the scuffle with Whitehead over the revolver, it was accidentally discharged and Whitehead killed.

IDENTITY OF MAN
BOMBING BANK
REMAINS UNKNOWN

KILLED 2 PEOPLE AND INJURED
TWO SCORE AT PITTS-BURGH

BLAST COMPLETELY SEVERED
HEAD OF BANDIT BOMB
THROWER

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Identity of the man who yesterday bombed the Farmers' Deposit bank killing two people and injuring two score others, after demands for $2,000 had been denied, today remained unknown.

The body of an unidentified man, his head completely severed, was found in the debris after the explosion and this is believed the body of the maniacal holdup man.

The other victim of the bombing was George C. Ortmann, bank policeman, who attempted to seize the bag in which the man carried the bomb.

The explosion came just as the mid-afternoon throngs filled the downtown streets. Thousands of pedestrians were within a close radius of the building when the explosion came. Buildings in the district were rocked and windows in many buildings were shattered.

Officials of the wrecked bank today estimated the damage at $150,000.

REMINDER THAT
WINTER IS AHEAD

Winslow, Ark., Aug. 25.—(UP)—First reminder that winter is ahead appeared here in a light snow which fell for an hour and a half last night. Temperatures tumbled from 72 to 50 degrees. The snow melted as it fell.

COUPLE HAPPY.
REUNITED AFTER
63 LONG YEARS

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS MANN,
83 AND 80, CREDIT PEN-SION BUREAU

LATTER BROUGHT ABOUT RE-SUMPTION OF THEIR MARI-TAL RELATION

Sparta, Wis., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Reunited here today after a separation of 63 years, during which time each believed the other dead, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mann, 83 and 80 years old, credit the United States Pension Bureau for bringing about the resumption of their marital relation.

The couple were married at Marquette, Ind., in 1863, and shortly thereafter the youthful husband enlisted in the army. Later he was discharged, moving to near Ironton, Wis., with his bride. He re-enlisted with a Wisconsin regiment and served until the close of the war in 1865.

Upon his return home he found that a baby daughter had been born and died during his absence, and that his wife, because of financial troubles had returned to her parents in Indiana. His efforts to locate her proving unsuccessful, Mann drifted about the country and finally located in Onalaska, Wis., where he married a widow and raised a family of five children.

Mrs. Mann in the meantime believing that he had perished in the civil war, married William Burns of Indianapolis, Ind., residing with him until his death in 1890. They had four children. Later she was married to James Tracy of Port Wayne, and moved to Grand Rapids, Mich., where he died a short time ago.

Applying for a pension as the widow of Thomas Mann, a union soldier, she was informed recently by the pension bureau that such a soldier was still living at Sparta. Correspondence between the widow at Grand Rapids and Mann here followed. Attorneys told them that despite the other marriages they are still man and wife and they are renewing an interrupted honeymoon period here today.

PAY TRIBUTE TO
ARTHUR MELLBYE

Lake Lillian, Minn., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Business houses here closed their doors today during the funeral of Arthur Mellbye, who died from injuries suffered when he fell 35 feet down a silo. He was 31 years old. A brother, Eugene Mellbye, lives at Fergus Falls.

Minneapolis, Aug. 25.—(UP)—Balked by relatives in his attempt to shoot himself, Edgar S. Anderson, 37, leaped into the Mississippi river and was drowned yesterday.

MEDIATION FAILS,
RAIL MEN TO TAKE UP ARBITRATION

New York, Aug. 25.—(UP)—Mediation of the wage question between the Brotherhoods of Railway Trainmen and Conductors and the eastern carriers has failed and arbitration proceedings will begin in this city at a date still to be decided.

Following lengthy sessions of the United States Board of Mediation yesterday, last night and this morning, Col. Samuel D. Winslow issued a statement saying arbitration was necessary.

HANGED FOR MURDER OF
HIS SWEETHEART

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Dan Prociw was hanged at the provincial jail here this morning for the murder of his sweetheart, Annie Cardno, following a drunken row in which the woman died as the result of many bruises and kicks and then having boiling water thrown over her in an attempt to revive her.

Hangman Ellis, Dominion executioner, bungled his job this morning and Prociw's head was severed from his body in the drop from the scaffold.

THRONGS TO VIEW BODY OF
VALENTINO

POLICE PREPARE TO HANDLE A CROWD EXCEEDING
30,000

SURGING THRONGS CLAMOR TO PAY RESPECTS TO DEAD
SCREEN IDOL

New York, Aug. 25.—(UP)—Scores of police today circled the quiet Campbell funeral parlors on upper Broadway to handle the throngs who are expected to congregate to view the body of Rudolph Valentino, lying in state within the parlors.

Police prepared to handle a crowd exceeding 30,000—the estimate placed on the surging throng which yesterday clamored to pay last respects to the dead screen idol.

In yesterday's rush it was estimated that 100 persons received minor injuries. Many of those hurt received cuts when great plate glasses in store fronts were broken by the thousands who filled the walks near the funeral parlors.

Officially the doors of the building where Valentino lies were closed at midnight against a crowd estimated at 20,000 which still waited outside. But twenty policemen who kept all night watch, after 180 foot and mounted men needed earlier, had departed, were lenient with dozens who claimed that night work prevented their viewing the body by day.

Until dawn groups of night workers passed the ornate coffin, gazing on the pallid features of the dead star.

Dawn found a new horde gathered before the doors. Along the street shop keepers had boarded up their windows, to prevent their being smashed by the surging crowds.

Throughout the evening the mobs fought and scrambled about the portals, breaking the waiting queues lined up four abreast for more than two blocks. Inside police hurried the people past the coffin, a record of 150 persons a minute being set. Rain beat down upon the sodden groups. Police said it was the worst disorder ever seen in New York.

During the evening some of the waiting people, who had failed to gain admission during the day, brought cakes of soap which they scattered on the sidewalks, making the pavement so slippery that when mounted police charged their horses stumbled.

Several of the horses fell on the soaped sidewalks.

Youth was the dominant note in the crowds. The majority were women and girls, although thousands of men were in line. Many of the women brought their babies.

Scant respect for the dead was exhibited by the curious crowd. Girls nudged each other, giggled and commented. Here and there, alone, some silent girl appeared to show real sorrow.

At midnight two Italian youths, one in plain clothes, one dressed in the black shirt and cap of the Italian Fascisti, arrived at the rooms and asked permission to stand watch beside the dead man.

They spoke simply, saying that they wished to stand guard in honor of Italy's dead.

For an hour they maintained their watch but left at 1 A. M.

Funeral plans, as announced by George Ullman, manager of the actor, call for keeping the body on view until midnight every day until Saturday.

The funeral services, he said, would be held at 11 A. M. Monday at St. Malcaby's church. Burial

REVOLUTION
ON IN SOUTH
AMERICAN NATION

STATE DEPARTMENT ASKS THE
NAVY TO SEND SHIPS TO NICARAGUA

CRUISERS OF SPECIAL SERVICE
FLEET AT BALBOA TO BE DISPATCHED

Washington, Aug. 25.—(UP)—The United States navy will dispatch two cruisers to Nicaragua to protect American lives and property which may be endangered by the revolution in that country, it was learned at the state department today.

The state department requested the navy to send ships as "a precautionary measure" following receipt of reports on conditions in Nicaragua from consular agents at Bluefield and Corinto.

Rear Admiral Julian L. Latimer, in charge of a special service squadron with headquarters at Balboa, C. Z., has been instructed to dispatch the ships to Nicaragua. This squadron, which is maintained at and around the Panama Canal most of the time, includes the cruisers Rochester, flagship, and Cleveland and Denver and the gunboats, Galveston and Tulsa.

Dispatch of American warships was not unexpected following the first reports of the Nicaraguan revolution late last week.

The marines on the ships and the sailors probably will not go inland but will remain on the coast, ready to furnish refuge to Americans or to send an expedition to protect threatened American property. The present Chamorro government of Nicaragua which obtained control of the country by armed force several months ago, is not recognized by the United States.

BROOKHART VOICES
PRAISE FOR YOUNG
LA FOLLETTE, REED

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Praise for Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., and Sen. "Jim" Reed of Missouri was voiced here today by former Sen. Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa. Brookhart is to speak at a farmers' meeting at Waino, Kansas, this afternoon.

"I admire Jim Reed for his courage," Brookhart said, "although I cannot agree with him in many of his battles."

Sen. LaFollette "has a better head than his father," Brookhart believes. Iowa republicans are again united firmly, according to Brookhart.

LIGHTED MATCH
CAUSED TROUBLE

Sedan, Minn., Aug. 25.—(UP)—A lighted match which he held in his hand exploded the fumes of gasoline in a filling station several feet away and seriously burned Nels Tackland, of Medberry, N. D., who was here on a business trip. His clothing caught fire, but the flames were extinguished by attendants of the station. He was taken to Brocton for treatment.

LYNX SHOT IN
OTTERTAIL COUNTY

Fergus Falls, Minn., Aug. 25.—(UP)—A lynx was shot by Maylon Njornstad, of Underwood, on his farm after a dog had chased the animal from a barn and up a tree. The lynx is rarely seen in Ottertail county, but one recently was killed near Elbow Lake.

will be at Hollywood, Ullman plans, unless members of the star's family desire that he be buried in Italy.

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 25.—Pola Negri, film star, announced she plans to leave today for New York for the funeral of Rudolph Valentino, to whom she has been reported engaged.

Miss Negri spent yesterday evening purchasing an elaborate ensemble of black silk. The modiste from whom it was purchased, said it had cost about $3,000.

Royal Tradition

The king of England "never dies." All that is admitted is a "demise of the crown" and the moment the sovereign passes away, his titles, dignity and power are transferred automatically to the heir apparent, who from that moment reigns in his stead. So, too, just as the king never dies, he is always of full age directly he ascends the throne, even though he has not reached his twenty-first birthday.

In practice, however, a regent is appointed for administrative purposes during the king's childhood. On a "demise of the crown" members of parliament, judges and naval and military officers are required to take a fresh oath of allegiance and cabinet ministers must surrender their portfolios.—Montreal Family Herald.

An Oversight

An irate customer entered the butcher's shop, threw down a piece of meat on the counter, and exclaimed indignantly: "What do you call that sir?"

The butcher examined it and replied: "It looks like a piece of brass."

"Piece of brass—of course it is! And do you know where I got it? Why, in one of your sausages."

The butcher rubbed his double chin, and then said he thought he could explain it.

"Yes, and explain it you will before I leave this shop!"

"Well," drawled the butcher, "I forgot to take the collar off."

Getting Around It

"Being aware that it is indelicate to advertise for a husband, I refrain from doing so; but if any gentleman should be inclined to advertise for a wife, I will answer the advertisement without delay. Am young, domesticated and rather good looking."—Adv. in Philippine paper.

Expensive

In San Francisco a man paid $600 for an hour's conversation on the telephone with his wife in New York. This works out at the rate of $10 for every minute he listened in.

Golden Eagle, silent, soaring
O'er the bounteous coast and land,
O'er our oceans wide and roaring,
O'er our mountains, rugged, grand,
This is God's blessed land of treasures,
Land, our seeking fathers found;
Plains and forests rich in pleasure—
Legend's realm and Hist'ries' ground.

Lakes and rivers mighty, bringing
Crops from orchard, crop from field;
Here our gleeful birds are singing—
Happiness to all they yield.
Work and song in sunny day-time,
Twilight's mead—with HER at night;
Charming, tender, lovely May-time,
With the moon in north-lake bright.

Mississippi—"waters" father",
And Niagara—"thunder's bride";
Minnehaha—"dew-fay's daughter"—
Indians' love, and white-men's pride.
Fun and sports and recreation—
Florida stands hand in hand
With the glaciers of our nation—
This is—Palm's and Cedar's land!

God's own orchard, wondrous,
charming,
Dreamy—matchless Yellowstone—
Se it, brother! Half alarming—
All—sublime, though Beauty-zone.
God's own language—WE are talking—
One—not only rich, but grand,
When 'mong master-emblems walking
Here in charmed Columbia's land.

Hail, Columbia, nature's blessed one,
Queen in peace and king in war!
Hail thee, hail thee, God's caressed one!
None thy beauty dare to mar.
Hail thy banner—dear old Glory,
Hail thy Eagle—emblem thine,
Hail thy mountains mighty, hoary,
Hail thee, HAIL THEE, goddess—mine!

The children's bureau, Washington, D. C., have recently issued the following bulletin:

5% of the 22,000,000 school children in the United States have or have had Tuberculosis. The percentage has been materially reduced by the continued use of clean, properly pasteurized milk.

20% are suffering from malnutrition.

75% have defective teeth. Pasteurized milk is rich in calcium, an element essential in building good teeth.

Minnesota has 14 Tuberculosis Sanitariums filled to capacity, Crow Wing County's own sanitarium at Deerwood having only one bed left. The continued use of properly pasteurized milk will greatly reduce the number of cases in Minnesota.

REV. HOSTAGER IN HOSPITAL

Taken Yesterday From Summer Cottage at Gull Lake With Severe Pain in Head

Rev. L. M. Hostager, formerly pastor of the Bethlehem Lutheran church of Brainerd who recently had an automobile accident on highway No. 19 when his car turned on its side in the ditch was yesterday taken to the St. Joseph's hospital in Brainerd from his summer cottage at Gull lake suffering with a severe pain in the head.

It is believed that the contusion on his head received in the accident was the cause of the severe pain suffered. Reports today are that Rev. Hostager is feeling better.

Royal Tradition

The king of England "never dies." All that is admitted is a "demise of the crown" and the moment the sovereign passes away, his titles, dignity and power are transferred automatically to the heir apparent, who from that moment reigns in his stead. So, too, just as the king never dies, he is always of full age directly he ascends the throne, even though he has not reached his twenty-first birthday.

In practice, however, a regent is appointed for administrative purposes during the king's childhood. On a "demise of the crown" members of parliament, judges and naval and military officers are required to take a fresh oath of allegiance and cabinet ministers must surrender their portfolios.—Montreal Family Herald.

An Oversight

An irate customer entered the butcher's shop, threw down a piece of meat on the counter, and exclaimed, indignantly: "What do you call that sir?"

The butcher examined it and replied: "It looks like a piece of brass."

"Piece of brass—of course it is! And do you know where I got it? Why, in one of your sausages."

The butcher rubbed his double chin, and then said he thought he could explain it.

"Yes, and explain it you will before I leave this shop!"

"Well," drawled the butcher, "I forgot to take the collar off."

Getting Around It

"Being aware that it is indelicate to advertise for a husband, I refrain from doing so; but if any gentleman should be inclined to advertise for a wife, I will answer the advertisement without delay. Am young, domesticated and rather good looking."—Adv. in Philippine paper.

Expensive

In San Francisco a man paid $600 for an hour's conversation on the telephone with his wife in New York. This works out at the rate of $10 for every minute he listened in.

Golden Eagle, silent, soaring
O'er the bounteous coast and land,
O'er our oceans wide and roaring,
O'er our mountains, rugged, grand,
This is God's blessed land of treasures,
Land, our seeking fathers found;
Plains and forests rich in pleasure—
Legend's realm and Hist'ries' ground.

Lakes and rivers mighty, bringing
Crops from orchard, crop from field;
Here our gleeful birds are singing—
Happiness to all they yield,
Work and song in sunny day-time,
Twilight's mead—with HER at night;
Charming, tender, lovely May-time,
With the moon in north-lake bright.

Mississippi—"waters' father",
And Niagara—"thunder's bride";
Minnehaha—"dew-fay's daughter"—
Indians' love, and white-men's pride,
Fun and sports and recreation—
Florida stands hand in hand—
With the glaciers of our nation—
This is—Palm's and Cedar's land!

God's own orchard, wondrous,
charming,
Dreamy—matchless Yellowstone—
So it, brother! Half alarming—
All—sublime, though Beauty-zone.
God's own language—WE are talking—
One—not only rich, but grand,
When 'mong master-embles walking
Here in charmed Columbia's land.

Hail, Columbia, nautre's blessed one,
Queen in peace and king in war!
Hail thee, hail thee, God's caressed one!

None thy beauty dare to mar.
Hail thy banner—dear old Glory.
Hail thy Eagle—emblem thine,
Hail thy mountains mighty, honary,
Hail thee, HAIL THEE, goddess—mine!

"There Is Nothing So Powerful As TRUTH and Often Nothing So Strange"

The children's bureau, Washington, D. C., have recently issued the following bulletin:

5% of the 22,000,000 school children in the United States have or have had Tuberculosis. The percentage has been materially reduced by the continued use of clean, properly pasteurized milk.

20% are suffering from malnutrition.

75% have defective teeth. Pasteurized milk is rich in calcium, an element essential in building good teeth.

Minnesota has 14 Tuberculosis Sanitariums filled to capacity. Crow Wing County's own sanitarium at Deerwood having only one bed left. The continued use of properly pasteurized milk will greatly reduce the number of cases in Minnesota.

CHURCH-STATE STRUGGLE LONG DRAWN IN MEXICO

BELIEF NOW THAT IT WILL CONTINUE THROUGHOUT CALLES' REGIME
PRESENT ADMINISTRATION HAS STILL TWO YEARS IN OFFICE

By A. W. FOLGER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Mexico City, Aug. 25.—Direct efforts of the Mexican Episcopate to seek peaceful settlement of the religious controversy apparently had ended today and the belief was strengthening that the struggle between church and state might continue throughout the Calles regime.

The determination of the Episcopate committee consisting of Bishop Pascual Diaz and Archbishop Ruiz, to suspend direct efforts for peace, left the situation where it was when the churches were closed almost a month ago in protest against the religious law promulgated by President Calles.

It is well known here that the Episcopate has the Pope's authorization for continuation of the passive resistance program.

The Calles administration still has about two years of office before it and should it be continued in power by the next election there would be six years in which the church scarcely could hope to obtain congressional, judicial or administrative relief from the laws it finds so objectionable. There is, of course, the possibility of revolution which might substitute for Calles an executive in sympathy with the church or one who might be more engrossed in the urgent business of making his position secure than in enforcing the religious law.

The Episcopate has informed Rome of the latest developments but has not received any communication from the Pope, according to Diaz, although a letter was expected today.

Foreign Minister Saenz' alleged remarks in San Antonio, Texas, in which he said congress might give the church relief, were seized upon by the Episcopate as an indication of the existence in Mexico of a faction which was discontented with the current agitation. Bishop Diaz said that the Catholics in Mexico comprised a majority of the population and their discontent "should worry any government which, according to the classic formula, should be representative of the people."

Rev. F. Webster Tyler, from Birmingham, N. Y., will be in Brainerd, Sept. 5, to open a revival campaign in the Full Gospel Assembly, 1/2 A street N. E. This is Rev. Tyler's second campaign here, and a large number of friends who heard him before will be glad to know of his second meeting here. "Rev. Tyler is an excellent speaker, and well grounded in the Scriptures, and brings a message that rings true to the Word of God," said Rev. Herman G. Johnson. More definite announcements will be made later, and an invitation is extended to all ministers of various churches, and all Christian people to help in an effort to reach lost souls for Jesus.

W. C. Fields' Coming in "The Old Army Game"

An old phrase soon destined to come into popularity again is the well-known saying "It's the Old Army Game." Why? That's the title of W. C. Fields' starring picture for Paramount, which arrives at the Lyceum on Thursday.

Old-timers will testify that the phrase has nothing to do with the army. Fields himself says it means, "Never give a sucker an even break." And that just about explains it.

Remember the old circus and medicine side-shows that used to arrive in town? There was always a red-faced chap mounted on a platform who called out: "Step up, ladies and gents! See if you can tell under which shell is the pea!" Then he moved the shells around rapidly and you'd guess. Usually wrong.

Well, that's "the old army game." And you'll laugh yourself sick at W. C. Fields.

"SOME WILD NOTIONS I HAVE KNOWN"

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

"SAFETY FIRST"

For the sake of conserving human waste and eliminating unnecessary risks this phrase is good advice, but as a motto of life it is thoroughly cowardly.

The safe course leads to obscurity. The great souls of history are those who have come up courageously and unflinchingly through danger. The world's great are those who took the motto, "Honor First."

Abraham Lincoln was warned by the most astute politicians of his day that the one sentence in his speech which referred to the nation, "half slave and half free," would defeat him in his campaign for the United States senatorship. But his conscience would not permit him to emasculate his convictions. He lost the senatorship but that sentence did much to win for him the presidency.

When the signers of the Declaration of Independence affixed their names to that immortal document it was with the sure knowledge that they had cast all caution to the winds and were inviting the most severe penalties that England could impose. Suppose John Hancock had cautioned "Safety First" on July fourth, 1776!

If this motto was the accepted guide of conduct all heroism and holy daring would be taken out of life. No Columbus would ever again launch out into a trackless west to sail beyond the edge of the world and discover new continents. No investigator would ever again submit himself voluntarily to the new and untried anesthetic in order to prove its power to relieve pain. No soldier would ever again crawl out into no-man's land under a hell of fire to rescue a wounded comrade. Life would disintegrate and become as putty.

This was the temptation which Jesus of Nazareth faced when He was promised all the kingdoms of the world if He would fall down and worship false gods. He could have won the world in safety if He had been willing to sell out.

Judge Ben Lindsey of Denver could have done his work in peace and "saved his children's court" if he had been willing to take the safe course and take orders from the political bosses.

Wendell Phillips could have enjoyed a lucrative law practice if he had been willing to give up his fight for the abolition of negro slavery.

Moses might have lived to a ripe old age in comfort and luxury, been a great Pharaoh, seen his name inscribed on some old monolith, and become an excellent mummy if he had not chosen to take the way of danger with his people.

Victor Hugo could have lived in peace and security in France for many years if he had not made war on the political evils of his day. But he scorned safety for conscience's sake and lived through twelve years of exile.

John Bunyan might have escaped to America and kept out of Bedford jail if he had been willing to think first of his personal safety and lastly of his responsibility to the cause of free religion.

The way of the cross is a hard way but it leads to the heights and honest danger holds no terrors for the brave whose hearts are clean.

Bessie Love and Haines Are Captivating in Leading Roles

The kind of a picture you have been waiting for is now showing at the Lyceum theatre. "Lovey Mary," which was directed by King Baggot, represents another achievement for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, which seems to have acquired the habit of turning out good pictures.

Ancients Used Umbrellas

Umbrellas are said to have been known as far back as the early days of Ninevah and Persepolis, for representations of them appear frequently in the sculptures of those early days. The women of ancient Rome and Greece carried them, but the men never did.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

Aug. 24, 1901

Mrs. H. Congdon has gone to Detroit Lake for a few week's visit. Mrs. E. C. Griffith arrived in the city this noon from Fargo.

Mons. Mahlum and John Carlson returned from Backus this morning. Rev. M. L. Hutton returned this morning from Crookston and Warren where he has been visiting for a few days.

The wholesale grocery house of Cleary, McGinnis & Hemstead shows what thrift and enterprise has been imbued into commercial channels in this city. Just seventy days from the day that the first shovel of dirt was turned this enterprising firm were moving groceries into their new building on the corner of Front and Fourth streets. The building is one of the most modern, exclusive houses in the Northwest. It is solid brick, two story and full basement building and no pains or money has been spared in making it convenient and up to date. The building is 75 by 100 ft. with an addition of 16 ft. of platform between the track and the rear of the building.

Brainerd lodge B. P. O. E. appropriately celebrated its first birthday yesterday, addresses, anecdotes, and music were features in Gardner hall last night. Everyone enjoyed the baseball game in the afternoon and eight innings were none too many. Yesterday's game brought out two of the hottest things in the umpire line that ever larded it over a ball field. One was a St. Cloud importation and one grew in Brainerd. They were armed with a bunch of weapons and what the umpire said certainly went yesterday. The field was strewn with the dead and dying who dared dispute a decision. Frank Blakely umpired for St. Cloud and Dr. Groves for Brainerd. Final score Brainerd 8, St. Cloud 11. The following is the line-up:
Brainerd—Canan, c; Murphy, p; Howe, 1b; Murphy 3b; Wisenberger, ss; Thabes, lf; Reilly, 2b; Hall, rf; Finn, cf.
St. Cloud—Wire, c; Wenzle, p; McKenzie, 1b; Pattison, 3b; Payden, ss; Birniek, lf; Ross, 2b; Ward, rf; McNaughton, cf.

FASHIONS

By HEDDA HOYT

New York, Aug. 25.—(UP)—The mannish girl in her tuxedo dinner coat, white vest, stock collar, scant skirt and boyish haircut, makes herself most evident when dancing among her more femininely dressed sisters these warm nights. At nearly every evening function we see at least one of her type. She is usually a slender little flapper or an elderly girl who wishes to be different. From a rear view she can't be distinguished from her boy friend. Summer, with its warm nights doesn't seem to be the time to cavort in broadcloth jackets and high stocks and we have a feeling that the mannish girl suffers much to gain an effect.

The mannish trend towards sports clothes has undoubtedly brought about the mannish evening garb among women. This year has been one in which simple tailored clothing has prevailed almost to a fault. It's been a year since we have seen a natural looking flower on a bonnet. When a flower is used its a cubist sort of posey that lacks femininity. Long sleeves are covering arms that a year ago were considered a feminine charm. Only at evening time do we see girls who look girlish in their lacy frocks. Even now we are beginning to resent this trend toward the masculine in feminine dress. Sleazy bobbed girls are resorting to the most feminine of dinner and dance frocks. Ruffles, lace insets and pleats adorn both chiffon and organdy dresses.

Earrings also provide a feminine touch to the boyishly bobbed Miss. Long pendant types of dainty crystal beads suspended on tiny chains are among the most popular ones. For day wear the pearl, jade or coral button earring is favored. Necklaces and bracelets are jewels which add a becoming contrast to the sleek-haired miss or matron.

Handkerchiefs cannot be too sheer or lacey and floating chiffon scarfs also provide a girlishness to the simple frock.

Of course, shoes and stockings are entirely feminine this year. The heavy sports shoe with low heel is a thing of the past.

Expression of Loyalty

The origin of the custom of standing when a national anthem is played has been handed down from ancient military practice. During the Middle ages it became customary for all persons to stand during any kind of patriotic demonstration.—Exchange.

CHURCH-STATE STRUGGLE LONG DRAWN IN MEXICO

BELIEF NOW THAT IT WILL CON-TINUE THROUGHOUT CALLES'
REGIME

PRESENT ADMINISTRATION HAS STILL TWO YEARS IN OFFICE

By A. W. FOLGER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Mexico City, Aug. 25.—Direct efforts of the Mexican Episcopate to seek peaceful settlement of the religious controversy apparently had ended today and the belief was strengthening that the struggle between church and state might continue throughout the Calles regime. The determination of the Episcopate committee consisting of Bishop Pascual Diaz and Archbishop Ruiz, to suspend direct efforts for peace, left the situation where it was when the churches were closed almost a month ago in protest against the religious law promulgated by President Calles.

It is well known here that the Episcopate has the Pope's authorization for continuation of the passive resistance program.

The Calles administration still has about two years of office before it and should it be continued in power by the next election there would be six years in which the church scarcely could hope to obtain congressional, judicial or administrative relief from the laws it finds so objectionable. There is, of course, the possibility of revolution which might substitute for Calles an executive in sympathy with the church or one who might be more engrossed in the urgent business of making his position secure than in enforcing the religious law.

The Episcopate has informed Rome of the latest developments but has not received any communication from the Pope, according to Diaz, although a letter was expected today.

Foreign Minister Saenz' alleged remarks in San Antonio, Texas, in which he said congress might give the church relief, were seized upon by the Episcopate as an indication of the existence in Mexico of a faction which was discontented with the current agitation. Bishop Diaz said that the Catholics in Mexico comprised a majority of the population and their discontent "should worry any government which, according to the classic formula, should be representative of the people."

"SOME WILD NOTIONS I HAVE KNOWN"

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

"SAFETY FIRST"

For the sake of conserving human waste and eliminating unnecessary risks this phrase is good advice, but as a motto of life it is thoroughly cowardly.

The safe course leads to obscurity. The great souls of history are those who have come up courageously and unflinchingly through danger. The world's great are those who took the motto, "Honor First."

Abraham Lincoln was warned by the most astute politicians of his day that the one sentence in his speech which referred to the nation, "half slave and half free," would defeat him in his campaign for the United States senatorship. But his conscience would not permit him to emasculate his convictions. He lost the senatorship but that sentence did much to win for him the presidency.

When the signers of the Declaration of Independence affixed their names to that immortal document it was with the sure knowledge that they had cast all caution to the winds and were inviting the most severe penalties that England could impose. Suppose John Hancock had cautioned "Safety First" on July fourth, 1776!

If this motto was the accepted guide of conduct all heroism and holy daring would be taken out of life. No Columbus would ever again launch out into a trackless west to sail beyond the edge of the world and discover new continents. No investigator would ever again submit himself voluntarily to the new and untried anesthetic in order to prove its power to relieve pain. No soldier would ever again crawl out into no-man's land under a hell of fire to rescue a wounded comrade. Life would disintegrate and become as putty.

This was the temptation which Jesus of Nazareth faced when He was promised all the kingdoms of the world if He would fall down and worship false gods. He could have won the world in safety if He had been willing to sell out.

Judge Ben Lindsey of Denver could have done his work in peace and "saved his children's court" if he had been willing to take the safe course and take orders from the political bosses.

Wendell Phillips could have enjoyed a lucrative law practice if he had been willing to give up his fight for the abolition of negro slavery.

Moses might have lived to a ripe old age in comfort and luxury, been a great Pharaoh, seen his name inscribed on some old monolith, and become an excellent mummy if he had not chosen to take the way of danger with his people.

Victor Hugo could have lived in peace and security in France for many years if he had not made war on the political evils of his day. But he scorned safety for conscience's sake and lived through twelve years of exile.

John Bunyan might have escaped to America and kept out of Bedford jail if he had been willing to think first of his personal safety and lastly of his responsibility to the cause of free religion.

The way of the cross is a hard way but it leads to the heights and honest danger holds no terrors for the brave whose hearts are clean.

The kind of a picture you have been waiting for is now showing at the Lyceum theatre. "Lovey Mary," which was directed by King Baggot, represents another achievement for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, which seems to have acquired the habit of turning out good pictures.

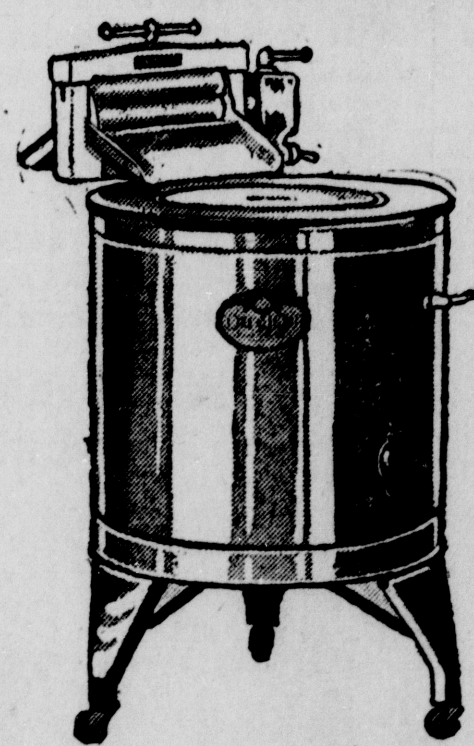

Ancients Used Umbrellas

Umbrellas are said to have been known as far back as the early days of Nineveh and Persopolis, for representations of them appear frequently in the sculptures of those early days. The women of ancient Rome and Greece carried them, but the men never did.

From the Daily Dispatch

Aug. 24, 1901

Mrs. H. Congdon has gone to Detroit Lake for a few week's visit.

Mrs. E. C. Griffith arrived in the city this noon from Fargo.

Mons. Mahlum and John Carlson returned from Backus this morning.

Rev. M. L. Huiton returned this morning from Crookston and Warren where he has been visiting for a few days.

The wholesale grocery house of Cleary, McGinnis & Hemstead shows what thrift and enterprise has been imbued into commercial channels in this city. Just seventy days from the day that the first shovel of dirt was turned this enterprising firm was moving groceries into their new building on the corner of Front and Fourth streets. The building is one of the most modern, exclusive houses in the Northwest. It is solid brick, two story and full basement building and no pains or money has been spared in making it convenient and up to date. The building is 75 by 100 ft. with an addition of 16 ft. of platform between the track and the rear of the building.

Brainerd lodge B. P. O. E. appropriately celebrated its first birthday yesterday, addresses, anecdotes, and music were features in Gardner hall last night. Everyone enjoyed the baseball game in the afternoon and eight innings were none too many. Yesterday's game brought out two of the hottest things in the umpire line that ever lorded it over a ball field. One was a St. Cloud importation and one grew in Brainerd.

They were armed with a bunch of weapons and what the umpire said certainly went yesterday. The field was strewn with the dead and dying who dared dispute a decision. Frank Blakely umpired for St. Cloud and Dr. Groves for Brainerd. Final score Brainerd 8, St. Cloud 11. The following is the line-up:

Brainerd—Canan, c; Murphy, p; Howe, 1b; Murphy 3b; Wisenberger, ss; Thabes, lf; Reilly, 2b; Hall, rf; Finn, cf.

FASHIONS

By HEDDA HOYT

New York, Aug. 25.—(UP)—The mannish girl in her tuxedo dinner coat, white vest, stock collar, scant skirt and boyish haircut, makes herself most evident when dancing among her more femininely dressed sisters these warm nights. At nearly every evening function we see at least one of her type. She is usually a slender little flapper or an elderly girl who wishes to be different. From a rear view she can't be distinguished from her boy friend. Summer, with its warm nights doesn't seem to be the time to cavort in broadcloth jackets and high stocks and we have a feeling that the mannish girl suffers much to gain an effect.

The mannish trend towards sports clothes has undoubtedly brought about the mannish evening garb among women. This year has been one in which simple tailored clothing has prevailed almost to a fault. It's been a year since we have seen a natural looking flower on a bonnet. When a flower is used it's a cubist sort of posey that lacks femininity. Long sleeves are covering arms that a year ago were considered a feminine charm. Only at evening time do we see girls who look girlish in their lacy frocks. Even now we are beginning to resent this trend toward the masculine in feminine dress. Sleazy bobbed girls are resorting to the most feminine of dinner and dance frocks. Ruffles, lace insets and pleats adorn both chiffon and organdy dresses.

Earrings also provide a feminine touch to the boyishly bobbed Miss. Long pendant types of dainty crystal beads suspended on tiny chains are among the most popular ones. For day wear the pearl, jade or coral button earring is favored. Necklaces and bracelets are jewels which add a becoming contrast to the sleek-haired 'miss or matron.

Handkerchiefs cannot be too sheer or lacey and floating chiffon scarfs also provide a girlishness to the simple frock.

Of course, shoes and stockings are entirely feminine this year. The heavy sports shoe with low heel is a thing of the past.

Expression of Loyalty

The origin of the custom of standing when a national anthem is played has been handed down from ancient military practice. During the Middle Ages it became customary for all persons to stand during any kind of patriotic demonstration.—Exchange.

ANOTHER BRAINERD BOY MAKES GOOD

THE DISPATCH published recently the report from Duluth that Dr. William A. Coventry had been named president of the Duluth Chamber of Commerce. It is only recently that he served as district governor of the Kiwanis in the Minnesota-North Dakota district. Dr. Coventry was born and raised in Brainerd. His father was a Northern Pacific railway engineer running out of Brainerd. From Brainerd the doctor went to the university and received his medical education and then established himself in Duluth where he has been most successful in his profession and has taken an active interest in public affairs.

The Duluth Herald publishes this editorial on the doctor and THE DISPATCH is very glad to print it, showing what Duluth people think of a former Brainerd man:

The nomination of Dr. William A. Coventry as president of the Duluth Chamber of Commerce means that he will be chosen at the election next month, as there is no other name on the ticket for this place, nor should there be.

The Chamber is to be congratulated on the fact that it has such a man to take up the responsibilities that have been borne so ably, so conscientiously and so self-sacrificingly by Francis J. Dacey during the last two terms. Mr. Dacey has given services to the community for which Duluth should be lastingly grateful.

Dr. Coventry has already shown, through his service as a director of the Chamber and as a leading figure in the lively and enterprising Kiwanis clubs of the Northwest, that he is public-minded and capable of large community service. A leader in his own professional field, he still has time and thought for constructive public enterprises.

The Chamber of Commerce is very fortunate indeed in the prospect of having Dr. Coventry as its president, and The Herald wishes him an abundant success and promises him its heartiest co-operation.

MINING DEVELOPMENT MAY FOLLOW

We believe Brainerd is just on the threshold of mining operations and we base it on the report reaching THE BRAINERD DISPATCH office. Several old miners reside near the South Sixth street mine, which is located about a mile south of the Brainerd postoffice.

They have been seeing some of the most prominent mining men and experts down at the property looking at the lay of the land and asking questions. The mine shipped during a period of the World war. Ore discovered was as high as 60 per cent and that certainly is good ore for a shaft mine and would warrant operations.

One thing is certain, if ore prices get to high points you will see the South Sixth street mine re-opened. That's just our opinion. The mine is well planned, has good shafts and levels and can be unwinded in a short time.

We think it's time that our whole Cuyuna iron range, north and south ranges, started to do something and that the south range rose to the dignity of operating and not just supinely occupied a place on an ore map as being location of such and such a tonnage.

Just think what shipping on the south range would mean. It would mean operating mines at the developed properties at Barrows where in years past the Hanna people of Cleveland, Ohio, were extensive shippers. It would mean smoke and hoisting and work of all kinds at Brainerd. It would mean mining at Woodrow, just east of Brainerd, and mining at Oreland, a few miles southwest of Deerwood.

PLEASED NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY

ON Tuesday, August 17, THE BRAINERD DISPATCH in an extended editorial thanked the Northern Pacific railway company for the page publicity accorded the city of Brainerd in its latest time table, which will secure distribution at every station of the transcontinental railway system as well as in every ticket office of other railway lines selling tickets over the Northern Pacific, plus also distribution in Europe and Asia at railway and steamship offices in those continents of the globe. And, by the way, Brainerd is the only city which was accorded such a page of publicity in the time table.

In reply to the editorial appreciating the publicity work done for Brainerd by the Northern Pacific railway company, A. B. Smith, Passenger Traffic Manager, writes:

"The whole-hearted and cordial tone of the editorial in your August 17th issue has been noted and appreciated all through the Northern Pacific organization.

"As you know, we feel a particular interest in Northern Pacific communities and try, in every way, to further their best interests. The publicity we have given Brainerd may be taken simply as an indication of our desire to help a live and hustling community in every possible way.

"I trust that this will be but the beginning of many other things which we can do to further the progress of Brainerd."

NOW IT'S ABOUT UNANIMOUS

WHEN the independent St. Cloud Daily Times concedes that the country is doing fairly well in these days of Republican rule, then there must be something substantial to our foundation of material well-being. The Times states, editorially:

That mellifluous word, "Prosperity" is sent ringing through the country by the federal reserve board. Industrial production in the first six months of 1926 surpassed all previous records for a like period, and the production was sold. Demands for products came from both urban and rural districts, and exports were high. Crop prospects are good, and general business is expected to continue as good during the next six months as it has been in the past.

Truly we are a fortunate people. And one of the greatest reasons why we are is because we have kept consistently to a minimum, race, religious and sectional antagonisms. Other populated areas of the world are divided by all those things. Here everybody has the opportunity to achieve whatever his abilities enable him to do. If ever that condition ceases, we may certainly look forward to a great decrease in prosperity and well being.

LITTLE FALLS people take a deep interest in Brainerd. Witness yesterday's issue of the Transcript which mentioned four Brainerd stories on its front page.

"Don Juan," screen play by Bess Meredith, starring John Barrymore, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

His father's warning—"Destroy women or they will destroy you; take their love scornfully and forgo it!"—has made Don Juan the greatest lover of all time. His cynicism is checked by Madonna-like Adriana Varones. Loving her madly, he reforms. The lovers incur the enmity of infamous Lucetta Borgia, who loves Juan, and Donati, her kinsman, who covets Adriana. To save her father, Adriana agrees to marry Donati, but when Varones is dragged off to stop the agreement Donati breaks into Adriana's room, where Juan catches them under circumstances that destroy his faith.

"You are waiting an excellent piece of acting," he said to Adriana, as she sank to her knees before him, lifting her hands appealingly. "I know, now, that all women are cheats; that they are liars and traitors. You must have been greatly amused at my adoration—other women shall pay for that amusement of yours—and possibly, in the end, payment may be exacted of you also. I bid you farewell!"

And with a graceful gesture as mocking as the bow he had made Lucetta earlier in the evening, he turned from her, strode to the windows opening on the balcony and was gone.

Adriana half-rose, tried to follow him, then sank to the floor again. Bowing her head in her hands, she sobbed as if her grief would never be exhausted. And Donati, watching her, smiled. He had hardly dared to hope that matters would work out so well. He was glad now that he had restrained his passion of a little while before; better to wait, now, until he had married the girl.

Juan had gone straight to the palace where Lucetta Borgia sat awaiting him, forcing herself to remain quietly in the high backed chair facing the door of the room from which her sleeping apartments opened, forcing herself to think of nothing except that he must surely come to her.

She pictured what was in all probability happening at the Varones palace. She could rely on Donati, and on Juan's feeling for the girl, she told herself. And yet—something might go awry. Juan might refuse to believe what would seem so apparent. He might fight with Donati—might be killed. That possibility made her draw in her breath sharply. She should have warned Donati to be careful. The girl might be able to persuade him that his suspicions were wrong.

Had Lucetta but known it, she had another enemy in her suit for Juan's love. Not a person, but his own bitterness and despair. At that moment he was stumbling through the streets, fighting with the temptation to throw himself into the Tiber's slow-flowing waters.

That would be such a simple way out, such an easy way to end the torment that was tearing at his heart. Life was not worth living, now, without his love for Adriana and his belief in her purity and loveliness. What could the world hold for him now? Half a dozen times he paused, to stare at the river and ask himself why he went on.

Life till now had been a gay adventure, in which women had but one place, the one to which he had assigned them because of his father's teachings. They had amused him. That was enough. His adoration of Adriana had made a different man of him; now the thought of sinking back into what he had been horrified him, yet there was no other way.

He came at last to the Borgia palace. Standing without the great gates, he looked up at it. From those to whom it belonged had come that night the orders that struck terror to the hearts of many in the city; tragedy had come, too, up the vines to the balcony outside Lucetta's apartments.

She sat waiting, as he had pictured her, and as he entered the room she smiled triumphantly. Slowly she rose, and the lids of her eyes drooped, and her body relaxed, after its tension during those waiting moments.

Juan stood staring at her. His face was bestial, almost sullen; Adriana would have cried out in fear at the look in his eyes. But she had never seen him, never could see him, as he was then.

Almost savagely he took Lucetta in his arms; there was loathing in his eyes as he kissed her. Even then he would have drawn away from her, but she put one arm around him, and drew him close again.

The days that followed were days of triumph for Lucetta, such triumph as in all her wicked life she had never known. She doted on Juan in the face of all Rome, made everyone realize what he meant to her.

She was less cruel, in her happiness, than she had ever been before. She disagreed with her brother's plans for the swift and secret removal of a valiant enemy whose estates would have been a valuable addition to those of the Borgias. And her serving maids, and Maia, marvelled at her kindness to them.

It caused them to fear as well. For they could see that Juan was restless, sullen, not the lover Lucetta so fondly believed him to be. He took small notice of her attempts to please him. One evening when she had robed herself in palest green and wore the emeralds which she so loved, he took but little notice of her.

Finally she said, almost pleadingly, "My robe—do you not like it?"

And he, refusing to pay the compliment for which she longed, retorted, "Oh, it suits you as well as any other!"

Yet no coldness on his part, no display of weariness, could turn her from him. After that first evening he avoided being alone with her, even paid court to Maia, but Lucetta blindly refused to see anything but the love in which she wanted to believe.

And even when he did not come to her, and did not trouble to make excuses, she believed that he loved her.

(To be continued)

Almost savagely he took Lucetta in his arms.

BABY ESCAPES
HIDEOUS DEATH
BETWEEN RAILS

Two Harbors, Minn., Aug. 25.—(UP)—A two year old baby is alive today because curiosity overcame fear and it did not move while a 58-car freight train passed over it.

The baby was the child of Section Foreman Swanson at Robinson and crawled from the Swanson home along the tracks. When a Duluth and Iron Range ore train roared around a curve, Engineer O'Leary saw the child just ahead and slammed on the air brakes.

After the train had shrieked to a stop, the train crew went back expecting to find the child dead. Instead, between the rails and beneath the 48th car was the baby, unhurt except for a few scratches.

MARSHAL FOCH

Marshal Foch, France's greatest military man, does not like to wear his uniform in peace time. He is extremely modest and knows that everybody recognizes him when he goes out in full uniform, wherefore he prefers to appear as an ordinary citizen and pass unnoticed.

Foch likes quiet, in his office at the Invalides, not far from Napoleon's tomb, he works "to avoid war." Foch is the most un military of men in private life. When there was war, he proved what he could do, but now that the trouble is over, he wants to get away from noise and is perhaps the Parisian who cares least for movement so anxious is his desire for peace.

ANOTHER BRAINERD BOY MAKES GOOD

THE DISPATCH published recently the report from Duluth that Dr. William A. Coventry had been named president of the Duluth Chamber of Commerce. It is only recently that he served as district governor of the Kiwanis in the Minnesota-North Dakota district. Dr. Coventry was born and raised in Brainerd. His father was a Northern Pacific railway engineer running out of Brainerd.

From Brainerd the doctor went to the university and received his medical education and then established himself in Duluth where he has been most successful in his profession and has taken an active interest in public affairs.

The Duluth Herald publishes this editorial on the doctor and THE DISPATCH is very glad to print it, showing what Duluth people think of a former Brainerd man:

The nomination of Dr. William A. Coventry as president of the Duluth Chamber of Commerce means that he will be chosen at the election next month, as there is no other name on the ticket for this place, nor should there be.

The Chamber is to be congratulated on the fact that it has such a man to take up the responsibilities that have been borne so ably, so conscientiously and so self-sacrificingly by Francis J. Dacey during the last two terms. Mr. Dacey has given services to the community for which Duluth should be lastingly grateful.

Dr. Coventry has already shown, through his service as a director of the Chamber and as a leading figure in the lively and enterprising Kiwanis clubs of the Northwest, that he is public-minded and capable of large community service. A leader in his own professional field, he still has time and thought for constructive public enterprises.

The Chamber of Commerce is very fortunate indeed in the prospect of having Dr. Coventry as its president, and The Herald wishes him an abundant success and promises him its heartiest co-operation.

MINING DEVELOPMENT MAY FOLLOW

We believe Brainerd is just on the threshold of mining operations and we base it on the report reaching THE BRAINERD DISPATCH office. Several old miners reside near the South Sixth street mine, which is located about a mile south of the Brainerd postoffice.

They have been seeing some of the most prominent mining men and experts down at the property looking at the lay of the land and asking questions. The mine shipped during a period of the World war. Ore discovered was as high as 60 per cent and that certainly is good ore for a shaft mine and would warrant operations.

One thing is certain, if ore prices get to high points you will see the South Sixth street mine re-opened. That's just our opinion. The mine is well planned, has good shafts and levels and can be unwinded in a short time.

We think it's time that our whole Cuyuna iron range, north and south ranges, started to do something and that the south range rose to the dignity of operating and not just supinely occupied a place on an ore map as being location of such and such a tonnage.

Just think what shipping on the south range would mean. It would mean operating mines at the developed properties at Barrows where in years past the Hanna people of Cleveland, Ohio, were extensive shippers. It would mean smoke and hoisting and work of all kinds at Brainerd. It would mean mining at Woodrow, just east of Brainerd, and mining at Oreland, a few miles southwest of Deerwood.

PLEASED NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY

ON Tuesday, August 17, THE BRAINERD DISPATCH in an extended editorial thanked the Northern Pacific railway company for the page publicity accorded the city of Brainerd in its latest time table, which will secure distribution at every station of the transcontinental railway system as well as in every ticket office of other railway lines selling tickets over the Northern Pacific, plus also distribution in Europe and Asia at railway and steamship offices in those continents of the globe. And, by the way, Brainerd is the only city which was accorded such a page of publicity in the time table.

In reply to the editorial appreciating the publicity work done for Brainerd by the Northern Pacific railway company, A. B. Smith, Passenger Traffic Manager, writes:

"The whole-hearted and cordial tone of the editorial in your August 17th issue has been noted and appreciated all through the Northern Pacific organization.

"As you know, we feel a particular interest in Northern Pacific communities and try, in every way, to further their best interests. The publicity we have given Brainerd may be taken simply as an indication of our desire to help a live and hustling community in every possible way.

"I trust that this will be but the beginning of many other things which we can do to further the progress of Brainerd."

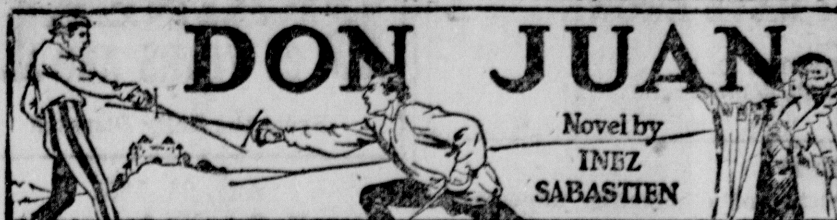

NOW IT'S ABOUT UNANIMOUS

WHEN the independent St. Cloud Daily Times concedes that the country is doing fairly well in these days of Republican rule, then there must be something substantial to our foundation of material well-being. The Times states, editorially:

That mellifluous word: "Prosperity" is sent ringing through the country by the federal reserve board. Industrial production in the first six months of 1926 surpassed all previous records for a like period, and the production was sold. Demands for products came from both urban and rural districts, and exports were high. Crop prospects are good, and general business is expected to continue as good during the next six months as it has been in the past.

Truly we are a fortunate people. And one of the greatest reasons why we are is because we have kept consistently to a minimum, race, religious and sectional antagonisms. Other populated areas of the world are divided by all those things. Here everybody has the opportunity to achieve whatever his abilities enable him to do. If ever that condition ceases, we may certainly look forward to a great decrease in prosperity and well being.

LITTLE FALLS people take a deep interest in Brainerd. Witness yesterday's issue of the Transcript which mentioned four Brainerd stories on its front page.

"Don Juan," screen play by Bess Meredyth, starring John Barrymore, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

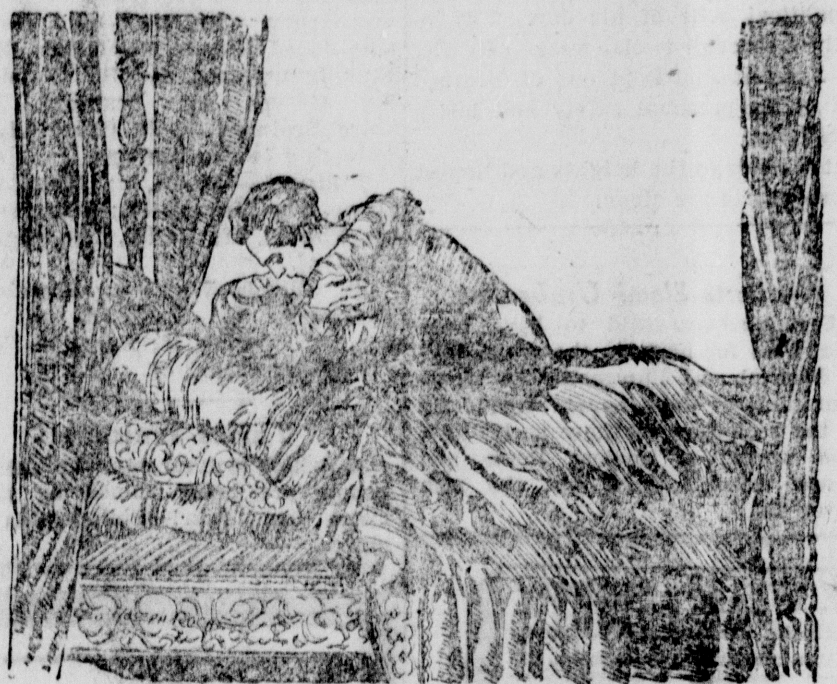

His father's warning—"Destroy women or they will destroy you; take their love scornfully—and for go!"—has made Don Juan the greatest lover of all time. His cynicism is checked by Madonna-like Adriana Varanese. Loving her madly, he reforms. The lovers incur the enmity of infamous Lucretia Borgia, who loves Juan, and Donati, her kinsman, who covets Adriana. To save her father, Adriana agrees to marry Donati, but when Varanese is dragged off to sign the agreement Donati breaks into Adriana's room, where Juan catches them under circumstances that destroy his faith.

"You are wasting an excellent piece of acting," he said to Adriana, as she sank to her knees before him, lifting her hands appealingly. "I know, now, that all women are cheats; that they are liars and traitors. You must have been greatly amused at my adoration—other women shall pay for that amusement of yours—and possibly, in the end, payment may be exacted of you also. I bid you farewell!"

And with a graceful gesture as mocking as the bow he had made Lucretia earlier in the evening, he turned from her, strode to the windows opening on the balcony and was gone.

Almost savagely he took Lucretia in his arms.

ing her, stifled. He had hardly dared to hope that matters would work out so well. He was glad now that he had restrained his passion of a little while before; better to wait, now, until he had married the girl.

Juan had gone straight to the palace where Lucretia Borgia sat awaiting him, forcing herself to remain quietly in the high backed chair facing the door of the room from which her sleeping apartments opened, forcing herself to think of nothing except that he must surely come to her.

She pictured what was in all probability happening at the Varanese palace. She could rely on Donati, and on Juan's feeling for the girl, she told herself. And yet—something might go awry. Juan might refuse to believe what would seem so apparent. He might fight with Donati—might be killed. That possibility made her draw in her breath sharply. She should have warned Donati to be careful. The girl might be able to persuade him that his suspicions were wrong.

Had Lucretia but known it, she had another enemy in her suit for Juan's love. Not a person, but his own bitterness and despair. At that moment he was stumbling through the streets, fighting with the temptation to throw himself into the Tiber's slow-flowing waters.

That would be such a simple way out such an easy way to end the torment that was tearing at his heart. Life was not worth living, now, without his love for Adriana and his belief in her purity and loveliness. What could the world hold for him now? Half a dozen times he paused, to stare at the river and ask himself why he went on.

Life till now had been a gay adventure, in which women had but one place, the one to which he had assigned them because of his father's teachings. They had amused him. That was enough. His adoration of Adriana had made a different man of him; now the thought of sinking back into what he had been horrified him, yet there was no other way.

He came at last to the Borgia palace. Standing without the great gates, he looked up at it. From those to whom it belonged had come that night the orders that struck terror to the hearts of many in the city; tragedy had come, too, death and suffering worse than death.

And he, Don Juan, could enter it at will. There, in the windows opening on Lucretia's balcony, was a burning taper; she awaited him there, with pearls wound in her blond hair, with her body delicately scented and painted for him, with her heart crying out to him. Should he go to her? Should he enter that great beautiful room in which she sat, and take what she offered him?

Or should he go on, out to the fields that stretched about the city, over the hills, perhaps to the great waterfall at Tivoli, to throw himself into its current, perhaps to ride north, to Florence dreaming beside the Arno, to Venice, where one could drift in a gondola on moonlit canals, with a beautiful woman at one's side?

Why stay in Rome now? Something held him, although he fought against it. He would not admit to himself that he still loved Adriana. Yet he could not force himself to leave the city in which she dwelt.

Impatient, angry, he stood there, looking up at Lucretia's window. He hated the love which held him, and the girl who had inspired it, who even now, he told himself, was in the arms of another man.

He told himself that he would kill that love, so that never again could it hold him by even the lightest leash. Once for all he would tear it from his heart.

And with that determination he strode into the courtyard of the Borgia palace, and swung himself up the vines to the balcony outside Lucretia's apartments. She sat waiting, as he had pictured her, and as he entered the room she smiled triumphantly. Slowly she rose, and the lids of her eyes drooped, and her body relaxed, after its tension during those waiting moments.

Juan stood staring at her. His face was bestial, almost sodden; Adriana would have cried out in fear at the look in his eyes. But she had never seen him, never could see him, as he was then.

Almost savagely he took Lucretia in his arms; there was loathing in his eyes as he kissed her. Even then he would have drawn away from her, but she put one arm around him, and drew him close again.

The days that followed were days of triumph for Lucretia, such triumph as in all her wicked life she had never known. She dominated Juan in the face of all Rome, made everyone realize what he meant to her.

She was less cruel, in her happiness, than she had ever been before. She disagreed with her brother's plans for the swift and secret removal of a valiant enemy whose estates would have been a valuable addition to those of the Borgias. And her serving maids, and Maïa, marvelled at her kindness to them.

It caused them to fear as well. For they could see that Juan was restless, sullen, not the lover Lucretia so fondly believed him to be. He took small notice of her attempts to please him. One evening when she had robed herself in palest green and wore the emeralds which she so loved, he took but little notice of her.

Finally she said, almost pleadingly, "My robe—do you not like it?"

And he, refusing to pay the compliment for which she longed, retorted, "Oh, it suits you as well as any other!"

Yet no coldness on his part, no display of weariness, could turn her from him. After that first evening he avoided being alone with her, even paid court to Maïa, but Lucretia blindly refused to see anything but the love in which she wanted to believe.

And even when he did not come to her, and did not trouble to make excuses, she believed that he loved her.

BABY ESCAPES
HIDEOUS DEATH
BETWEEN RAILS

Two Harbors, Minn., Aug. 25.—(UP)—A two year old baby is alive today because curiosity overcame fear and it did not move while a 58-car freight train passed over it.

The baby was the child of Section Foreman Swanson at Robinson home along the tracks. When a Duluth and Iron Range ore train roared around a curve, Engineer O'Leary saw the child just ahead and slammed on the air brakes.

After the train had shrieked to a stop, the train crew went back expecting to find the child dead. Instead, between the rails and beneath the 18th car was the baby, unhurt except for a few scratches.

TO CRACK

WINNER WILL BE THE TEAM THAT CAN STAND THE GAFF

By HENRY L. FARRELL

New York, Aug. 25.—Approaching the home stretch in the National League pennant race with a blanket covering the leading St. Louis, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati clubs, the clockers are sitting on the rail waiting for one or more of the clubs to crack.

Experience doesn't count any too much as the Pittsburgh Pirates have only a year on the Reds and the Cardinals.

The winner will be the team that can stand the gaff.

Many wise baseball men, including John McGraw, have been watching for Rogers Hornsby's club to fold up under the strain, but the Cardinals have been playing better ball day by day with splendid pitching, inspired fielding and savage hitting.

The Cardinals are in the midst of a spurt that gave them sixteen out of eighteen games and the predicted collapse of the team looks far removed.

Jack Hendricks and his Reds seemed to be out of the running after the disastrous eastern invasion, but the team went back home and ran up a string of nine straight coming from behind to win most of their games.

The Pirates survived internal dis-ension that resulted in the firing of several stars and the firing of Eddie Moore, Max Carey, Babe Adams and Carson Bigbee and they are still hanging on.

The big break may come next week when the Pirates go to St.
Louis to open one of the most important series of the year, and the advantage ought to be with Hornsby's club, as they will be in familiar surroundings with St. Louis yelping for its first National league pennant.

The battle may continue until the last week of the season and the championship may be decided by one game, as it was in the American league several years ago when the St. Louis Browns were beaten out by the Yankees by a stroke of mathematical pencil.

Betting and general opinion here
favors the Cardinals to outlast the Pirates and the Reds because the club had more all-around strength than the Reds and better morale than the Pirates.

The Cardinals, however, have eight games to play with the Pirates and four with the Reds and the Reds have five more games with the Pirates. And the three teams have another eastern trip to make.

KITTENBALL GAME AT KOERING GROUNDS

them one more chance to redeem fixed up training quarters for the champion.

Speculator, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Gene
Tunney, who has been training here for his bout with Jack Dempsey, has selected a new training camp at Stroudsburg, near Philadelphia, where he will make himself ready for his bout with Jack Dempsey. He will move soon to the new quarters.

MRS. MARY STILLINGS IS CALLED SUDDENLY

Kind Mother to Hundreds of Young Men and Ladies Dies as
She Slept

CITY MOURNS DEMISE

Her Many Kind Acts Remembered
by Many She Befriended

Mrs. Mary Stillings, aged 67 years, who has been the kind mother to hundreds of young men and ladies whose homes are elsewhere, during the 15 years she has owned and directed the affairs of the boarding and lodging house at 303 North 5th street, passed away as she slept sometime early this morning.

She was found dead in her bed by a maid at her accustomed time of rising at 5:30 o'clock. Liked and admired as a loving mother, even death was kind to her in that she passed away without pain or struggle from valve of the heart disease.

Her death today is mourned by the entire city and especially those who have been boarders or roomers at her house. Little secrets from the hearts of young ladies and men were treasured by the kind lady. Sympathetic to the troubles related her, Mrs. Stillings herself never complained of her own health. Boarders and roomers are today remembering their grand landlady by ordering a large wreath of flowers as a homage of their last respects.

Little incidents in the life of Mrs. Stillings which have meant a great deal to lonesome sons and daughters away from home are today told and retold. Among her many kind acts each Christmas season she would have a Christmas tree in the house and allow her roomers to entertain and forget the loneliness in their hearts at that time. Then at Thanksgiving a special dinner was always prepared in sumptuous style. Then one evening or more each year she entertained her roomers at a theatre party.

Mrs. Stillings was feeling in good health up to the time of her death. Last evening she attended the theatre in company with her son-in-law, and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Casey. She went to bed shortly after 11 o'clock apparently feeling well.

Mrs. Mary Stillings, formerly Miss Mary Gates, was born in Baden, Germany, on September 5, 1859. At the age of four years with her parents, they moved to the United States, residing in New York City for a short while and moving from there to St. Paul. She was married in 1880 in Brainerd to Fred Stillings who was an engineer on the M. & I. railway. He died in Brainerd 15 years ago. Mrs. Stillings has been a resident of Brainerd for the past 46 years, except for a short time spent at Bemidji, Staples and St. Paul.

She was a member of the Methodist church and the ladies aid of the church.

Surviving are three brothers, Frank, Joseph, and George Gates of Minneapolis, one sister, Mrs. Holman, of Minneapolis, daughter, Mrs. James F. Casey and granddaughter Virginia Casey, of Brainerd.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed yet. Interment will be at Evergreen cemetery.

Johnson-Finney

Miss Ellen Finney, daughter of Mrs. Mathilde Finney of 1619 Norwood St., Brainerd, became the bride of Roy Johnson on Saturday, Aug. 14, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Johnson, E. Third St. Dr. John F. Robertson, of the Endion M. E. church, performed the ceremony in the presence of the families and a few friends. Miss Lillian Harnell played Lohengrin's wedding march.

Miss Violet Johnson, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. She wore a gown of peach colored crepe and carried an arm bouquet of pink sweet peas.

Miss Hildur Finney, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of rose crepe and carried an arm bouquet of pink and white sweet peas. George Johnson attended his brother as best man.

The bride's gown was of white flat crepe, simply fashioned. Her veil was arranged in a coronet and was caught with orange blossoms. Her flowers were a shower arrangement of white sweet peas and gladioli.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served to 50 guests. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left for an extended eastern trip and will be at home in Duluth after Sept. 15—Duluth News Tribune.

Mrs. Johnson was born and raised in the city and graduated from the local high school. She attended the St. Cloud Normal and has a host of friends here who extend the couple's warmest congratulations.

RALPH E. JOHNSON AT THE ROTARY

Modern Woodmen of America National Organizer and Lecturer
Gives Splendid Address

"STRETCHING U. S. DOLLAR"

Rotary Makes a Dollar Pay Dividends in Rays of Sunshine and Cheer and Happiness

Ralph E. Johnson, of the Nebraska colony on Big Pelican lake, was the speaker of the day at the Rotary club. Mr. Johnson is the national organizer and lecturer of the Modern Woodmen of America and as such it keeps him in touch with the many camps of that fraternal organization in all parts of the United States, and gives him a broad national outlook. He selected as his topic, "Stretching the American Dollar."

"The dollar since the world war has replaced the English pound sterling as a universal measure of unit of value," said Mr. Johnson. "Yet in its home country, our dollar is looked upon as a 'shrunken' dollar with scarcely more than fifty per cent of its old time pep and purchasing power."

Admitting that this is true, it behooves us to find ways and means of stretching the American dollar. This must be done in a legitimate, honest way too, to add to its intrinsic value. Different men advance different methods or plans.

"There was the Bryan plan of 16 to 1. There was the George Washington plan, the father of our country making our dollar go far by throwing one across the Potomac river. The bankers plan is to be thrifty. The inculcation of thrift among the people and putting their dollars in the savings bank or in baby bonds at 4 to 6 per cent will cause money to double in 12 to 20 years.

The Iowa idea is to legislate the values of farm products. An Iowa wheat pushed from $1.48 to $2.49 a bushel; corn from 85c to $1.42; eggs from 28c to 61c; butter from 48c to 98c; and lamb from $14.60 to $20.45.

Albert A. Hyde has a plan too. Hyde says: "I know the elation that comes from making money and from building up great commercial enterprises, but the joy that comes from using one's time and one's money to make this old world better and happier is a thousand times more satisfying."

"We can't stretch the American dollar by debasing it or adulterating it—putting cheaper alloy in it, German mark or French franc fashion. But there is one very successful way of stretching the American dollar and making it go further. Hyde has the right prescription. I suspect he is a Rotarian for his is a Rotary creed.

He profits most who serves best. Rotary supplements the primary value of the dollar by stretching it and making it go further in paying dividends measured in rays of sunshine, in atoms of making your city a better city in which to live, in weapons which combat selfishness and greed, in short, through genuine civic service which makes every dollar Rotary can influence, go further in bringing comfort, joy, progress, beauty and increased attractiveness to your city.

It is Rotary's creed that we get more out of life by putting more in it, that we stretch the dollar by putting more of them in the right channel where they will do the most good.

The daily papers are full of suggestions on how to stretch the American dollar. Here's a clipping: "Minnesota must conserve its natural resources to keep tourists coming." Here's another: "Rotarians urge conservation of state's beauties, preservation of wild life and conservation of forests, lakes and streams for the enjoyment of coming generations."

These suggestions all appeal to Brainerd. You have thousands of

AIR PILOT MISSING OVER FORTY HOURS

SEARCH MADE NEAR BELLEFONTE, PENNSYLVANIA

AIRPLANES AND ALSO GROUND SEARCHING PARTIES ENLISTED

Bellefonte, Pa., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Headed by Lieutenants J. J. Williams and L. Smith, air pilots today resumed the search for Lieut. Cyrus K. Bettis, missing for more than forty hours.

Williams and Smith, who were flying companions of Bettis when the trio hopped off from Philadelphia for Selfridge field, Michigan, Monday, returned here last night to direct the search for their comrade.

Augmented by more planes and pilots the flyers expected to spend the greater part of the day in the air today unless Bettis is located at once. A ground search party also has been organized.

Selfridge field, Mich., Aug. 25.—Major Thomas G. Lanphier, commandant of Selfridge field, planned to leave here today at the head of three army pursuit planes and an observation unit to aid in the search for Lieut. Cyrus Bettis. It was expected the four planes would take off between 9 and 10 A. M.

FOUND ALIVE WITH BROKEN LEG

Bellefonte, Pa., Aug. 25.—Lieut. Cyrus K. Bettis, Pulitzer prize winner, who had been missing for more than 48 hours, today was alive in the Bellefonte hospital.

Lieut. Bettis was brought here from Jack Mountain, about 15 miles south of here, where he had been found by two boys.

Bettis suffered a broken left leg, and probable internal injuries. He also is suffering from shock and exposure, but hospital attaches believe he will recover.

The army flier was found by two boys on the roadside where he had crawled after his plane had smashed into the side of a mountain in a dense fog Monday afternoon.

Lieut. J. J. Williams, of Selfridge field, who headed the hunt for Bettis, said that the injured flyer told him that he had crawled for five hours, through the dense underbrush before reaching the road where he was found.

Physicians at the hospital said that Bettis had an excellent chance of recovery provided the shock to his system had not been too great.

It was said that Bettis was suffering greatly, not only from his broken leg but from the injuries to his face, which was crushed almost to a pulp by the impact when his ship struck the three. He also suffered many lacerations on the body crawling through the dense underbrush to the roadside.

The injured flyer said that he probably had been unconscious for some time after the crash, but on regaining his senses he started to crawl away from the wreckage of his plane.

He indicated that the plane was a complete wreck, having struck the side of a mountain and then piled up against a tree.

The automobile bearing Bettis arrived here shortly before 9 A. M. today.

It was said that while the entire country sought word of the missing flyer, that he was lying at the home of Mrs. Ralph Aurand, northwest of Lewistown. Millard Aurand was one of the boys who found the missing flyer late last night and took him to his home.

LAKE LILLIAN HOLDS ITS BREATH

TOWN AWAITS RESULT OF THE DRILLING FOR OIL

Lake Lillian, Minn., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Lake Lillian is awaiting breathlessly the news of an oil strike as the result of drilling operations which now are in full blast. A depth of 135 feet has been reached and blue shale has been struck. Experts declare that indications of black, crude oil have been found.

Blood Relationship

The eugenic record office of the Carnegie institution says that brothers and sisters are more closely related than father and son or mother and son. Biologically, a father and son have one-half common blood, while a brother and sister have all common blood. One contains with his half-brother the same amount of common blood that he contains with his father.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's Hero—Ray Kremer, Pirate pitcher, who hurled the Corsairs to a 4 to 1 victory over the Brooklyn Robins, and landed the Buccaneers on top of the heap in the National league.

The Cardinals dropped off the top rung of the ladder by splitting with the Boston Braves. The Braves won the first, 2 to 1, and the Cardinals the second, 6 to 5.

The Cincinnati Reds bumped the New York Giants 4 to 3.

The Chicago Cubs pounded out a double victory over Fletcher's Phillies 9 to 4 and 9 to 6. Harnett smacked two home runs in the second game.

Hitting Ernie Nevers hard in the early innings, the Washington Senators got off to a good lead and beat the St. Louis Browns 9 to 6.

Jack Lelivelt's fast stepping Brewers gained a game in the American association by winning from the Hens while the Colonels were losing to the Millers. Three home runs brought in the necessary runs to give the Brewers a 3 to 2 victory over the Hens. Bunny Brief pounded out two of the circuit clouts, while Simon connected with the other.

After the Colonels had taken an early two-run lead the Millers found Dawson's offerings to their liking and scored four runs in the fourth inning, which enabled them to win 5 to 4.

In what was the shortest game of the season, the Saints downed the Indians 6 to 2. The game was played in one hour and 11 minutes.

Unable to hit effectively the lowly Senators dropped both games of a double bill to the Blues, 4 to 1 and 3 to 2.

WILBUR SHAW OF DETROIT

NEW CELEBRITY IN AUTO RACING WORLD TO BE SEEN AT STATE FAIR

A new celebrity in the auto racing world, Wilbur Shaw of Detroit, national 50-mile champion, will be one of a record-breaking field of starters to be seen in action in the races to be staged at the Minnesota State Fair and Northwest Dairy Exposition, September 4 to 11.

It will be the first appearance of the national 50-mile champion in action in the northwest. Race fans will be greatly interested in Shaw's new speedster, the Clemons' C-1. A radical change in car construction has been worked out in this new model. The frame of the C-1 is cut off directly in front of the rear wheels. It is fastened to a heavy plate which is bolted to newly perfected shock absorbers. This makes the car ride much easier and eliminates much of the jar that causes wear and tear on the motor. Shaw predicts that this new type of construction will be adopted by other car manufacturers for dirt track racing.

Lee Warner of St. Paul, who is in charge of the state fair speed program, saw Shaw establish his 50-mile record at Hawthorne track, Chicago, two weeks ago. Shaw out-classed the field, winning in the remarkable time of 42 minutes and 35 seconds. Mr. Warner sought to induce Shaw to make an entry for the Hamline races immediately after his big victory, but Shaw was undecided whether he would race here or at the Michigan state fair in Detroit, his home city. His decision to enter here was welcome news to Mr. Warner, who says that it assures the keenest kind of competition for the rest of the field.

Shaw is picked by many race fans to carry off the dirt track championship this year. With Sig Haugdahl, title holder for the past three years, in retirement, there is a mad scramble on among the speed pilots for the crown formerly worn by the daring Norsk driver. Haugdahl announced his retirement at last year's state fair and has not raced this year. Repeated efforts have been made by Mr. Warner to induce Haugdahl to reconsider his decision to quit the racing sport and return to the track, but he turned a deaf ear to all such entreaties.

More than two dozen drivers are expected to compete in the three-day meet at the fair. Invitations have been sent to every well known dirt track racer to compete here. The meet will be under the sanction of the International Motor Contest Association.

Peace, Goodwill

Columbia, Peace and the Spirit of Brotherly love have been joined in one person, a beautiful woman. This young lady was one of the central figures in a pageant staged at the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition in Philadelphia, celebrating 150 years of American Independence. The Exposition continues until December 1.

Loser's "Waterloo"

When Napoleon fought the battle of Waterloo he met his greatest defeat. It was a decisive one, which marked the beginning of the end of his career. From this circumstance we use the word "Waterloo" to signify that one has met defeat in so decisive a way as to preclude the hope of future success.

PROFESSIONAL OPERATORS LAUNCH DRIVE

New York, Aug. 25.—(UP)—Professional operators launched another drive on the principal industrialists today relying on the nervousness over the money situation to bring out stocks for covering purposes. Reports were widespread in speculative circles regarding the imminence of increases in the bank rate at regional centers like Boston and Philadelphia. Apprehension in this score was heightened by heavy calling of Wall street loans which caused the charge for demand borrowing to stiffen to 5 per cent after renewals had been arranged at 4 1/2 per cent.

At the same time interests working for lower prices were accorded considerable success and new lows on the movements were established in Steel, DuPont and General Motors. Rails, however, maintained a confident tone reflecting steady accumulation. The market closed irregular.

SIX INJURED IN A COLLISION BETWEEN CAR AND TRAIN

INJURED WERE MEMBERS OF PARTY DRIVING FROM DULUTH TO SUPERIOR

ACCIDENT HAPPENED CLOSE TO SUPERIOR, WISCONSIN

Superior, Wis., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Six persons were injured, three seriously, in a collision between an automobile and a train near here today.

They are: Jack Olson, Duluth, not expected to live. Dena Christianson, Superior, seriously hurt.

Mary Sanford, Superior, critically injured. Ralph Hilton, Duluth, slightly hurt.

Charles Kipling, Duluth, foot injured. Pearl Stenback, severely shaken, but injuries minor.

The injured were members of a single party driving from Duluth to Superior. Olson was driving the automobile. Details of the accident were not obtained.

All six were taken to St. Mary's hospital here.

AIR PILOT MISSING OVER FORTY HOURS

SEARCH MADE NEAR PELLE-
FONTE, PENNSYL-VANIA

AIRPLANES AND ALSO GROUND
SEARCHING PARTIES
ENLISTED

Bellefonte, Pa., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Headed by Lieutenants J. J. Williams and L. Smith, air pilots today resumed the search for Lieut. Cyrus K. Bettis, missing for more than forty hours.

Williams and Smith, who were flying companions of Bettis when the trio hopped off from Philadelphia for Selfridge field, Michigan, Monday, returned here last night to direct the search for their comrade.

Augmented by more planes and pilots the flyers expected to spend the greater part of the day in the air today unless Bettis is located at once. A ground search party also has been organized.

Selfridge field, Mich., Aug. 25.—Major Thomas G. Lanphier, commander of Selfridge field, planned to leave here today at the head of three army pursuit planes and an observation unit to aid in the search for Lieut. Cyrus Bettis. It was expected the four planes would take off between 9 and 10 A. M.

FOUND ALIVE WITH BROKEN LEG

Bellefonte, Pa., Aug. 25.—Lieut. Cyrus K. Bettis, Pulitzer prize winner, who had been missing for more than 48 hours, today was alive in the Bellefonte hospital.

Lieut. Bettis was brought here from Jack Mountain, about 15 miles south of here, where he had been found by two boys.

Bettis suffered a broken left leg, and probable internal injuries. He also is suffering from shock and exposure, but hospital attaches believe he will recover.

The army flier was found by two boys on the roadside where he had crawled after his plane had smashed into the side of a mountain in a dense fog Monday afternoon.

Lieut. J. J. Williams, of Selfridge field, who headed the hunt for Bettis, said that the injured flyer told him that he had crawled for five hours, through the dense underbrush before reaching the road where he was found.

Physicians at the hospital said that Bettis had an excellent chance of recovery provided the shock to his system had not been too great.

It was said that Bettis was suffering greatly, not only from his broken leg but from the injuries to his face, which was crushed almost to a pulp by the impact when his ship struck the tree. He also suffered many lacerations on the body crawling through the dense underbrush to the roadside.

The injured flyer said that he probably had been unconscious for some time after the crash, but on regaining his senses he started to crawl away from the wreckage of his plane.

He indicated that the plane was a complete wreck, having struck the side of a mountain and then piled up against a tree.

The automobile bearing Bettis arrived here shortly before 9 A. M. today.

It was said that while the entire country sought word of the missing flyer, that he was lying at the home of Mrs. Ralph Aurand, northwest of Lewistown. Millard Aurand was one of the boys who found the missing flyer late last night and took him to his home.

LAKE LILLIAN HOLDS ITS BREATH

TOWN AWAITS RESULT OF THE DRILLING FOR OIL

Lake Lillian, Minn., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Lake Lillian is awaiting breathlessly the news of an oil strike as the result of drilling operations which now are in full blast. A depth of 135 feet has been reached and blue shale has been struck. Experts declare that indications of black, crude oil have been found.

Blood Relationship

The eugenic record office of the Carnegie institution says that brothers and sisters are more closely related than father and son or mother and son. Biologically, a father and son have one-half common blood, while a brother and sister have all common blood. One contains with his half-brother the same amount of common blood that he contains with his father.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's Hero—Ray Kremer, Pirate pitcher, who hurled the Corsairs to a 10 to 1 victory over the Brooklyn Robins, and landed the Buccaneers on top of the heap in the National league.

The Cardinals dropped off the top rung of the ladder by splitting with the Boston Braves. The Braves won the first, 2 to 1, and the Cardinals the second, 6 to 5.

The Cincinnati Reds bumped the New York Giants 4 to 3.

The Chicago Cubs pounded out a double victory over Fletcher's Phillies 9 to 4 and 9 to 0. Hartnett smacked two home runs in the second game.

Hitting Ernie Nevers hard in the early innings, the Washington Senators got off to a good lead and beat the St. Louis Browns 9 to 6.

Jack Lellivelt's fast stepping Brewers gained a game in the American association by winning from the Hens while the Colonels were losing to the Millers. Three home runs brought in the necessary runs to give the Brewers a 3 to 2 victory over the Hens. Bunny Brief pounded out two of the circuit clouds, while Simon connected with the other.

After the Colonels had taken an early two-run lead the Millers found Dawson's offerings to their liking and scored four runs in the fourth inning, which enabled them to win 5 to 4.

In what was the shortest game of the season, the Saints downed the Indians 6 to 2. The game was played in one hour and 11 minutes.

Unable to hit effectively the lowly Senators dropped both games of a double bill to the Blues, 4 to 1 and 3 to 2.

WILBUR SHAW OF DETROIT

NEW CELEBRITY IN AUTO RAC-ING WORLD TO BE SEEN AT STATE FAIR

A new celebrity in the auto racing world, Wilbur Shaw of Detroit, national 50-mile champion, will be one of a record-breaking field of starters to be seen in action in the races to be staged at the Minnesota State Fair and Northwest Dairy Exposition, September 4 to 11.

It will be the first appearance of the national 50-mile champion in action in the northwest. Race fans will be greatly interested in Shaw's new speedster, the Clemons' C-1. A radical change in car construction has been worked out in this new model. The frame of the C-1 is cut off directly in front of the rear wheels. It is fastened to a heavy plate which is bolted to newly perfected shock absorbers. This makes the car ride much easier and eliminates much of the jar that causes wear and tear on the motor. Shaw predicts that this new type of construction will be adopted by other car manufacturers for dirt track racing.

Lee Warner of St. Paul, who is in charge of the state fair speed program, saw Shaw establish his 50-mile record at Hawthorne track, Chicago, two weeks ago. Shaw out-classed the field, winning in the remarkable time of 42 minutes and 35 seconds. Mr. Warner sought to induce Shaw to make an entry for the Hamline races immediately after his big victory, but Shaw was undecided whether he would race here or at the Michigan state fair in Detroit, his home city. His decision to enter here was welcome news to Mr. Warner, who says that it assures the keenest kind of competition for the rest of the field.

Shaw is picked by many race fans to carry off the dirt track championship this year. With Sig Haugdahl, title holder for the past three years, in retirement, there is a mad scramble on among the speed pilots for the crown formerly worn by the daring Norsk driver. Haugdahl announced his retirement at last year's state fair and has not raced this year. Repeated efforts have been made by Mr. Warner to induce Haugdahl to reconsider his decision to quit the racing sport and return to the track, but he turned a deaf ear to all such entreaties.

More than two dozen drivers are expected to compete in the three-day meet at the fair. Invitations have been sent to every well known dirt track racer to compete here. The meet will be under the sanction of the International Motor Contest Association.

Peace, Goodwill

Columbia, Peace and the Spirit of Brotherly love have been joined in one person, a beautiful woman. This young lady was one of the central figures in a pageant staged at the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition in Philadelphia, celebrating 150 years of American Independence. The Exposition continues until December 1.

Loser's "Waterloo"

When Napoleon fought the battle of Waterloo he met his greatest defeat. It was a decisive one, which marked the beginning of the end of his career. From this circumstance we use the word "Waterloo" to signify that one has met defeat in so decisive a way as to preclude the hope of future success.

PROFESSIONAL OPERATORS

LAUNCH DRIVE

New York, Aug. 25.—(UP)—Professional operators launched another drive on the principal industrialists today relying on the nervousness over the money situation to bring out stocks for covering purposes. Reports were widespread in speculative circles regarding the imminence of increases in the bank rate at regional centers like Boston and Philadelphia. Apprehension in this score was heightened by heavy calling of Wall street loans which caused the charge for demand borrowing to stiffen to 5 per cent after renewals had been arranged at 4½ per cent.

At the same time interests working for lower prices were accorded considerable success and new lows on the movements were established in Steel, DuPont and General Motors. Rails, however, maintained a confident tone reflecting steady accumulation. The market closed irregular.

SIX INJURED IN A COLLISION BETWEEN CAR AND TRAIN

INJURED WERE MEMBERS OF PARTY DRIVING FROM DU-LUTH TO SUPERIOR

ACCIDENT HAPPENED CLOSE TO
SUPERIOR, WISCON-SIN

Superior, Wis., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Six persons were injured, three seriously, in a collision between an automobile and a train near here today.

They are:
Jack Olson, Duluth, not expected to live.
Dena Christianson, Superior, seriously hurt.

Mary Sanford, Superior, critically injured.
Ralph Hilton, Duluth, slightly hurt.

Charles Kipling, Duluth, foot injured.
Pearl Stenback, severely shaken, but injuries minor.

The injured were members of a single party driving from Duluth to Superior. Olson was driving the automobile. Details of the accident were not obtained.

All six were taken to St. Mary's hospital here.
